New School Plan Revision Okayed

Plan revisions for the proposed Section 11 junior high school, including an added $240,000 physical education center, were approved by the Palm Springs district school board Thursday.

Architect Don Wester presented plans for the physical education facility which permit flexibility and compartmentalization of activities into three distinct areas. The plan utilizes a special classroom under the exercise area floor.

The board is now pondering a bond issue to raise the estimated $1,740,000 construction price for the 99,000 square-foot facility. A study session to consider the bond issue was called for next Thursday by Berton L. Lamb, board president.

The school is proposed for a site at Avenida Caballeros and Vista Chino which is now subject to condemnation proceedings. The proposed first increment would be for seventh and eighth grade students, with a future expansion to include the ninth grade.

School Superintendent Dr. Dwight E. Twist told the board that if a bond issue is sought for construction within the coming year, the question should be on the June 5 election ballot. The action would require notification to County Counsel Ray T. Sullivan, Jr., within the next few days, Dr. Twist said.

The board will consider Thursday the total amount of bond which may be sought, and a possible citizens committee to make recommendations on bond requirements. The final $900,000 increment of the more than $4 million in bonds approved by the voters in 1958 is expected to be sold in Sept. 1962, Jack L. Miles, assistant superintendent said.

Morgan in Race for Supervisor

DESERT HOT SPRINGS — Leslie S. Morgan, 46, president of the Desert Hot Springs Improvement Association, has announced his candidacy for the fourth district seat on the county board of supervisors.

Morgan, a Democrat, became the eighth man to announce candidacy for the non-partisan post which will be vacated by incumbent George Berkey. Berkey, a Palm Springs realtor, will not seek reelection to the post.

In announcing his candidacy, subject to the June 5 primary, Morgan stressed a platform of preparation "for the growth that will be ours to enjoy." Morgan emphasized preparation for "the population explosion which is going to come to the desert area" "while there is still time to prepare."

A native of Arkansas, Morgan moved to Colorado in his infancy, and to California in 1936. He has been a resident of Desert Hot Springs since 1944.

Morgan was a founder of the Angel View Crippled Children's Foundation, and is a past president of the Crippled Children's Society of Riverside County. A charter member of the Desert Hot Springs chamber of commerce, he is a past educational lieutenant governor of Toastmasters International, and a charter member of the First Baptist Church here.

Bickering Renewed In Berlin

Border Again Sees Disputes

BERLIN (UPI) — An Allied spokesman disclosed today that the Western powers defied a Soviet attempt to restrict traffic in the three air corridors into West Berlin Thursday and today.

Earlier, the Soviet commander refused an American request to show his identity card and turned back from an attempted crossing into West Berlin.

The incidents were the latest in the series of troubles between the Soviet Union and the United States, Britain and France over the rights of access to isolated Berlin.

Soviet Commandant Col. Andrei V. Solov'yev was on his way to a meeting with Maj. Ten. Sir Rohan Delacombe, the British commandant, this morning when he tried to enter West Berlin through the Friedrichstrasse crossing point. When an American military policeman there asked him if he was Col. Solov'yev, the Soviet commander ordered his car turned around and drove back into East Berlin, ignoring the question.

A few hours later, the Allied spokesman said that Western planes ignored a Soviet warning against flights in the corridors at certain altitudes because Russian planes would be flying there at the same time.

Informed sources said the Russians were trying to limit Western rights in the aerial corridors and were "probing" to see how the West would react.

They found out. The West flew more planes than usual.

The Allied spokesman said the Russians told the Western Allies that today two of the three 20-mile corridors over East Germany "would need to be reserved" for Soviet military transport planes up to a height of 7,500 feet from 8:50 a.m. to 12:50 p.m.

The same demand was made Thursday for one of the corridors up to 7,000 feet from 9:05 a.m. to 12:25 p.m.

Seizure of Million in Bogus Bucks

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Secret Service seized a near record $1 million plus in counterfeit $10 bills Thursday night, but still had to worry today about the elusive plant and master plates being used to flood the East with bogus money.

Agents got no help in their so far frustrated search from Joseph Anthony Maggio, arrested after a patiently planned raid on his Brooklyn apartment house. Albert E. Whitaker, special agent in charge of the Secret Service's New York office, said Maggio, 35, would not make a statement.

Maggio was held overnight for arraignment today before a U.S. commissioner on a charge of possessing counterfeit money. It was one of the biggest hauls ever of counterfeit money. U.S. Attorney Joseph P. Hoey said "more than $1 million" was seized by the raiders. Hoey said the seizure was "probably the largest ever made in the East."

Move to Scrap Baird a Failure

By R. F. GRAETTINGER
BANNING — Internal differences sparked a heated debate Thursday night at a Riverside County Republican Central Committee meeting here last night and a move to oust Dick Baird as chairman failed, at least temporarily. Parliamentary rules revealed that there was no provision in the committee's by-laws for removal of an official during his term of office and after arguments over legal technicalities, the meeting adjourned at 11 p.m. to reconvene Feb. 22 to consider an amendment to the rules.

Broadcast For Chest Tomorrow

Top entertainment personalities will make personal appearances tomorrow in a marathon radio broadcast to raise funds for the Palm Springs Community Chest.

The program will be held in the parking area across from the MFK Drug Store on the grounds of the Desert Inn, and special telephones will be set up to receive calls from contributors.

Starting at 10 a.m., the program will run until late at night and until everyone has had a chance to call or bring in his contribution.

The phone number of the Community Chest is 325-2137.

Mac McDonald, executive manager of the Community Chest, and Jack Miles, campaign chairman, will set up a chest in the area which will be filled with the contributions made during the marathon.

Would Return Darling
The move to oust Dick Baird was precipitated on a motion by Art Lester, Riverside attorney. He proposed that Richard Darling replace Baird.

Darling was former chairman of the committee but resigned to enter the congressional race. After Darling reversed this decision, his backers sought to have him return to the county chairmanship, Baird's backers say.

Phillips Enters Battle
The meeting was interrupted by several acrimonious exchanges between members of the committee and from the more than 60 Republicans present.

John Phillips of Banning, former congressman, and a member of the state central committee engaged in a spirited debate when the latter criticized some county candidates Phillips did not believe the state should enter the county arena.

Baird Wins Priase
Baird was highly praised for his efforts as chairman by his adherents at the meeting who pointed out the high quality of speakers he had brought to the county.

Dr. H. J. Benson of Claremont Colleges, an authority on political affairs, was the speaker last night, outlining the principles of the Republican party.

It was announced that Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, would address a Republican meeting in the county March 22.

Resort Balmy as Downpours Seen For Coast Area

It's been a bit damp in the desert, but you don't know how good we have it.

While Palm Springs and the resort area have received .05 of an inch of rain, torrential downfalls blamed for two deaths and evacuation of hundreds of residents, have hit Los Angeles and the Southern California coastal area.

Word is there's no clearing in sight and an additional two to four inches of rain was in prospect west of the mountains during the next 24 hours.

Indications are that California's long drought may be ending. United Press International in a story dated from Los Angeles states that:

Schools Closed
The rains that began Wednesday were described by the Weather Bureau as a system of fronts "funneling right into our area with the heaviest rain in half a dozen years."

All Los Angeles city schools were ordered closed because of the rainstorm which caused flooded conditions in widespread areas, giving 675,000 students in 581 schools an unexpected holiday.

Falling rocks and mud slides closed canyon and coastal roads or restricted traffic to single lanes. Only slight slides occurred in the Bel Air-Brentwood area, scene of a disastrous fire that destroyed 456 homes last November.

Traffic on the newly opened Golden State Freeway near Elysian Park was restricted to one lane when mud and rocks tumbled across the pavement.

Eight Inches of Rain
Precipitation was widespread and ranged in amounts from more than eight inches to a spattering at Palm Desert where former President Dwight D. Eisenhower is vacationing.

Topanga Canyon, scene of roaring brush fires in past years, registered more than six inches of rainfall, the low lying areas of the city, including Hawthorne, Gardena and Inglewood had more than four inches.

Los Angeles International Airport with a storm total of 4.68 had a season total of 10.66 compared to a normal at this time of 7.50.

Civic Center, where the total for the whole 1961 season was 4.85, registered 3.16 inches this morning from the storm and a total thus far of 9.26 compared to the normal 8.64 on this date.

Some teen-agers caused already harassed police additional trouble by putting together makeshift rafts and floating down sometimes-dry Los Angeles River or other rain-choked flood control channels.

Water up to eight feet deep forced removal of 188 persons from 94 homes in a Gardena suburban tract. A combined Civil Defense-Red Cross rescue headquarters was set up at Gardena Community Center to house victims of the waters that inundated cars and washed through homes.

A Beverly Hills mother and a Canoga Park boy, died Thursday in separate storm-connected accidents.

Mrs. Natalie Spritzler, 41, was crushed to death when a tree fell on her car as she waited for one of her children at a West Los Angeles intersection.

Charles Edward Hibbs, 7, was drowned when he fell into the rain-swollen Los Angeles River.

GOVERNOR FLIES PLANE
EGLIN AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (UPI) — Gov. Farris Bryant flew an Air Force F-104B jet fighter plane nearly twice the speed of sound Wednesday. Bryant, a licensed pilot, took control of the plane for about 10 minutes during a flight from Tallahassee to Eglin.

Weather is Still Best In Desert

By JACK KNUDSON

Sometimes it takes "a bust in the neck" such as the coastal area is getting weatherwise to point up to desert residents how wonderful they have it here.

Even businessmen, with high lease payments to meet, do not have it as rough as reports indicate things might be on the coastal plane.

There have been complaints that "the weather has been against resort business," but checks with the chamber of commerce and business people indicate that the season thus far has been fairly successful.

The Desert Sun is convinced of this. Its circulation above the high-then a thousand above the highest point of last year — reached in March, 1961, a month later than this.

Chamber officials admit that business was a bit slow right after the start of the year, but recent weeks "have been great."

Jimmie Cooper, chamber manager, reported: "This is not the best winter we've had, but it's not the worst. Back about 1947 we had 11 consecutive weekends of bad weather."

There's Always Another Chance

The paper, edited and printed by prison inmates, pointed out that "long term contracts" were available.

Bids for School Called

Approval of working drawings and authorization for a call for bids for the Section 2 elementary school were given by the Palm Springs Unified School District board last night.

Viewing possible delays in the school completion, the board tabled indefinitely a proposed change in school service zones within the district.

The new school, planned for construction south of Francis Drive and east of the extension of Via Miraleste, may be occupied in September, 1963, the board was told by Superintendent Dr. Dwight Twist.

Architect John Porter Clark estimated the costs including land purchase at $589,637. The 10-acre site will cost $60,398, but sale of six lots west of the site with development of Via Miraleste, is expected to reduce total site acquisition and development costs approximately $6, 500. Total site development is estimated at $67,449.

Building construction is estimated at $410,000. Furniture, movable equipment and playground equipment included in the construction budget totals an estimated $26,000, with other costs, including contingencies, adding approximately $12,630.

The Sept. 1961, estimate for the job was a net $580,000, Clark reported.

Quiz of Marines Called 'Nonsense'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. E. L. Bartlett, a member of the Senate subcommittee studying military censorship, said today that its aides quizzed Marines about "complete nonsense."

The Alaska Democrat commented in an interview on the questions subcommittee investigators asked Marines and airmen here. The incident provoked lively Senate debate Thursday.

Critics included two ex-Marines,

Dr. Goodwin will also handle some social science and religion courses, while Dr. Hudson will double in drama and speech, and Dr. Furr may eventually handle Greek and Latin courses. Dr. Goodwin was schooled at W. Virginia Wesleyan and Boston University, while the two PhD's come from Cornell.

Dr. Elmira Layague Johnson will handle counseling and teach psychology as well as serve as college psychologist. She is a native of the Philippines and received degrees from Silliman University there and Ohio and Wisconsin universities here. Dr. Johnson has taught three years at Franklin College in Indiana where she headed the psychology department.

Also selected was Frederick Thon, who holds degrees from Harvard and Yale, as instructor in art. He is currently teaching at the University of California at Santa Barbara.

Co-ordinator of community service, which includes the evening adult education classes, will be Max Wilcockson, who is presently in a like capacity with the Coachella Valley High School District.

Librarian will be Everett Moore, who is now serving in the same capacity at Chico State College. He holds degrees from Wheaton, Pasadena and George Peabody.

Director of food services and head of home economics will be Mrs. Elizabeth Blauw, who is presently in a like capacity at Modesto Junior College.

School Board Committee To Iron Out Park Deal

A two-member committee of the Palm Springs Unified School District board was appointed last night to meet with a city council committee to iron out proposals for district purchase of a park site adjacent to the Section 2 school site.

Named to the committee were Dr. Bernard Poliak and Hardin Hart.

The school district, asked for aid by the city in purchasing the 10-acre park site for resale to the city, had indicated agreement.

The school district, asked by the city to purchase the park site for resale to the city and joint school - city use, had indicated agreement. Subsequently, the city proposed a subsequent purchase of 7.5 acres east of the proposed extension of Via Miraleste. Under the proposal, made because of the city's stringent financial position with only $15,000 in the park purchase fund, subdivider of the six lots which would be left west of Via Miraleste would pay for street and sewer improvements.

Dr. Dwight E. Twist, school superintendent, explained to the board that the purchase aid to the city, with the city to complete the purchase by Jan. 1, 1963, would be a long-range economy for the school district. Without the joint park use the school district would have to use a full 10-acre school site, but could sell six lots west of Via Miraleste with joint park use.

The school district, asked by the city to purchase the park site for resale to the city and joint school - city use, had indicated agreement. Subsequently, the city proposed a subsequent purchase

Bobby's Irish Temper Flares

TOKYO (UPI)—Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy's Irish temper flared in a heated discussion with leaders of the leftist Sohyo labor federation today and he accused them of using a double standard in judging the United States and Communist countries.

"You have a complete misconception of what kind of government and what kind of people we are," Kennedy said.

He invited his main antagonist, Akira Iwai, secretary general of Sohyo, to visit the United States this spring.

Iwai hesitated in his reply and Kennedy pressed him, "Will you come this spring?"

Iwai explained he was leaving for Europe Saturday. Kennedy urged him to come afterward and switched to another subject but Kennedy would not let him off the hook.

"We're not forgetting this matter," the 36-year-old attorney general said. "You must come."

Kennedy met the labor leaders at a round-table discussion and on the whole it was a rather friendly session.

The heated part came when Kennedy asked the Sohyo leaders if they supported the Socialist party's statement that Americans are a "group of imperialists." "Is that the belief of Sohyo?" Kennedy said, raising his voice considerably and shaking his finger at Iwai.

Iwai said that the way Sohyo saw it "imperialism meant 'monopolist capitalists' and not necessarily 'sending soldiers with guns' such as happened in Cuba and Laos."

"We are not very well impressed by the way Americans were doing in Cuba and Laos," Iwai said, hastily adding that he did not mean American soldiers had invaded these countries.

Cadillac

Ten reasons why ladies love Cadillacs!

1. Cadillacs are beautiful.
2. They are easy to drive and park. With the featherlight touch of its steering and its instinctive sense of the road, the car gives a lady a unique feeling of confidence and mastery at the wheel.
3. They are easy to get in and out of. The doors are wide and high—and they open all the way.
4. Cadillacs are quiet. The car is so meticulously crafted that, even at the full legal limit, a lady can speak in a whisper and be heard.
5. Cadillacs are roomy and comfortable.
6. They go a long way without stopping for gas.
7. They are safe and dependable. Every Cadillac undergoes 1400 inspections during its manufacture.
8. They hold their value. A Cadillac historically returns its owner a greater share of its original cost than any other car in the land.
9. Cadillacs are so personal. When she chooses from 13 models, 23 colors, 139 interior combinations and a host of accessories, a lady has a car that is uniquely her own.
10. Cadillacs are easy to find. The car is so distinctively styled that it is instantly recognizable in even the largest parking lot.

Confidentially, there are many other reasons why ladies love Cadillacs. Your dealer will be happy to help you discover them at any time.

Housing Units Opened at Twentynine Palms Base

TWENTYNINE PALMS — A large crowd of base personnel and their dependents witnessed 82 units of the first mortgage area, Capehart Housing, become part of this world's largest Marine Corps installation. The ceremony took place at the Capehart site and was highlighted by ribbon cutting ceremonies.

After an invocation by Cmdr. C. A. Frame, Base Chaplain, Brig. Gen. L. J. Fields, Base Commander, introduced Rear Adm. J. R. Davis, Director, Bureau of Yards and Docks, Southwest Division.

Admiral Davis received the master keys from contractor W. E. Fitzpatrick and in turn passed them along to General Fields, after cutting the ceremonial ribbon with the Base Commander. This officially placed the new homes on the roles as part of this Marine missile and artillery Base.

Base personnel are moving into the three and four bedroom units featuring disposals, garages with extra storage spaces, utility rooms and large view window.

Sixty eight more houses are expected to be completed shortly.

Realtors Stirred on Tax Gains

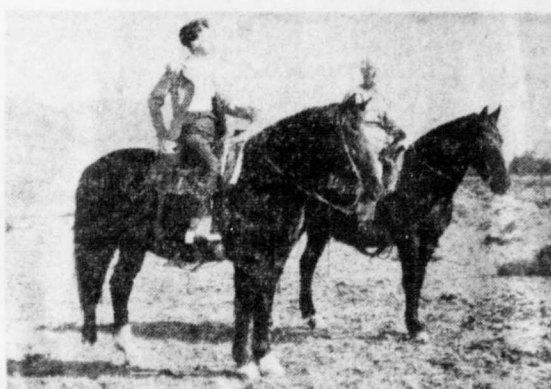

Members of the Palm Springs Board of Realtors have been urged by their president, Mrs. Isabelle Cameron, to write their congressmen regarding the taxing of gains derived from the sale of real estate. If such a law were accepted, the House Ways and Means committee rejected such a proposal last September but that the treasury department has made new attempts to get the plan enacted into law during the current session. After enactment, owners will be deterred from selling because of the higher tax on the gain. Investment in shopping centers, office buildings, and apartment houses which would curb the capital gains will be discouraged. Mrs. Cameron pointed out that the House Ways and Means committee rejected such a proposal. "Please write your representative today urging that he appeal to the House Ways and Means committee not to recede from its September decision to reject this proposal," Mrs. Cameron wrote. "Urge that he reject this recommendation."

RICK HARRISON, left, co-designer of the multi-million-dollar Bermuda Colonies on Bermuda Dunes Country Club's first fairway, signs guest book for Ernie Dunlevie, co-owner of the project. They are standing in the unique semi-circular sunken recreation and conversion area fronting the striking fireplace of one of the units. The fireplace, which is backed by a semi-circular native stone chimney, is decorated by pre-cast, washed terrazzo panels and native stone.

Bermuda Dunes Colonies Homes Gaining in Popularity

Harmonizing with the lush surroundings of Bermuda Dunes Country Club, the multi-million dollar Bermuda Colonies bordering the first fairway of the club's scenic view golf course is gaining wide popularity.

Comprising more than 1600 square feet of inside living area spread over two bedrooms, two baths, a complete kitchen and a 31-foot living room, the individual own-your-own homes are ideally located. They are sited along the winding drive that serves as the entrance to Bermuda Dunes' emerald carpeted grounds and colorful "Top of the Dune" clubhouse. Beckoning residents of the spacious Bermuda Colonies is a sweeping view of the first and eighteenth fairways, Bermuda Lake, the clubhouse and rugged Santa Rosa Mountains.

The Bermuda Colonies homes are designed by Wexler and Harrison, A.I.A. The exterior construction features steel surfacing and steel support columns, insuring extra strength, durability and freedom from maintenance problems.

Wexler and Harrison's design features an interesting flowing effect. Object is an orientation of interior architecture with outdoor attractions. Helping to accomplish the flowing look is extensive use of floor to ceiling glass panels. It enhances the effect of space and at-oneness with the desert and brings unlimited sun-drenched desert and mountain vistas breathtakingly close.

Bermuda Colonies offers standards of luxury and leisure rarely attained in the Palm Springs area. For example, the fireplace area boasts a large semi-circular sunken relaxation and conversation spot. The fireplace wall consists of pre-cast, washed terrazzo panels flanked by native stone. Keyed to informal, carefree living, Bermuda Colonies keeps the burdens and responsibilities of home maintenance remote from its residents.

There May Be a Mobile Home in Your Future

If your crystal ball is working, there's a good chance it will reveal a mobile home or travel trailer in your future.

A study made for the Trailer Coach Association by the Stanford Research Institute indicates that by 1970 one out of every 10 persons in the West will be using a vacation trailer or living in a mobile home.

A wide variety of these trailers with all their furnishings and trimmings will be on hand at the TCA ninth annual Mobile Home and Travel Trailer Show at Pan-Pacific Auditorium Feb. 8-11.

As its name implies, the vacation trailer is intended chiefly for recreation. It can be used on long motor trips, for deluxe camping in some isolated spot, or in a trailer court where it can be hooked up to electric, water and sewage lines.

The term "mobile home" generally is applied to a trailer over 30 or 32 feet.

Vacation or travel trailers are designed for towing by the family car. Some models even can be towed by imports and compact automobiles. Travel trailer widths do not exceed eight feet.

Mobile homes are available in eight and 10-foot widths. The 10-wides are becoming more standard now that their movement over highways is permissible in more and more states. Lengths range up to 30 feet on regular models and up to 70 feet, or even longer, for custom-built.

Committee Jobs Told

A number of members of the Palm Desert Board of Realtors have been appointed to important committees of the California Real Estate Association by Charles H. Brown of Pasadena, president of the association, it was announced by L. Thoral Lake, president.

Roy St. Leon has been named vice chairman of the resort properties committee. Richard Coffin has been named as a member serving with St. Leon and 12 other members from other resort cities on this committee.

The committees of the California Real Estate Association work throughout the year on a wide range of projects to improve the standards of the real estate industry and also for the protection of property owners and the public in buying and selling of real estate.

Most of the CREA committees will meet in Sacramento at the El Dorado Hotel and Sacramento Inn, March 15-17. More than 1200 members of the association from all parts of the state will be in Sacramento discussing the many current projects of the 38,000-member state association.

DESERT AREA builders and architects were guests at a dinner given by the California Electric Power Company at Holiday Inn. Some 500 local area residents and their wives attended the dinner, which honored the construction in the desert of partial or all-electric Medallion homes.

Palm City Home Sales Exceed $9 Million

PALM CITY—Total home and apartment sales here topped $9 million the first weekend in February, reports developer Neils G. Severin.

Palm City, a self-contained "active retirement" community 20 minutes from Palm Springs, is being built for people 50 and over by Marnel Development Co., Inc. Opened last spring, it already has more than 400 residents.

Severin, president of the firm, said the first unit of 450 homes is sold out and that sales are increasing weekly in the No. 2 section.

20 Homes Sold

Twenty homes were purchased during the week ending Feb. 4 to put us over the $9 million mark," Severin said. "With the height of the warm, beautiful desert winter season upon us, heavy traffic is seen daily at our seven display homes and model apartments."

The former president of the National Association of Home Builders said the Palm Springs Golf Classic at the famous nearby courses such as Bermuda Dunes and Indian Wells, brought thousands to the area last weekend.

"Many stopped by to see our unique senior citizens project," he added.

Palm City will have 1800 homes and "own-your-own" apartments situated around two golf courses when completed next year. It features a large recreation center, neighborhood shopping center and medical-dental facility. Prices start at $12,995 and excellent FHA financing is offered.

Homes Open Daily

Two and three bedroom step-saving floor plans and 31 varied home exteriors were designed by Los Angeles architect William Bray, AIA, to appeal to the tastes of all types. Colorfully furnished homes are open daily.

The modest price of the homes, free recreational facilities, and proximity of the retirement city to major cities and scenic spots, has brought buyers from all parts of the nation, Severin said.

The $30 million project can be reached by taking Highway 111 from Palm Springs to Washington Street and following directional signs.

Compass in Baron Realty

Palm Springs Realtor Marjorie Baron has announced the appointment of Cmdr. Jack Copass, USN (ret), as an associate broker in her office.

A graduate of the University of Southern California, with a degree in economics and business administration, Copass is a member of Delta Sigma Pi professional fraternity. He was formerly associated with Sunkist prior to World War II in administrative work in Arizona and California citrus areas.

During the war, Cmdr. Copass served in the south Pacific and at the Los Alamitos Naval Air Station. Since the war, after retirement from the Navy, he was assistant general manager of a manufacturing company in Manhattan Beach.

Cmdr. and Mrs. Copass and children Dianne and Jack moved from Downey to Palm Springs in September of 1955, having purchased a home at 1554 S. Calle Marcus.

FRANK SEYFERLICH, sales representative for El Rancho Vista Estates, places the "open for inspection" sign on the first completed home in the third unit of the development which is located east of Sunrise Way on Vista Chino. The builders acclaim these homes as the ultimate in properly insulated homes for desert living. Four inches of mineral-wool insulation is used in all exterior walls as well as ceilings, plus circulating air space between the ceilings and white reflective rock roof.

THUNDERBIRD PARK

Luxury Homes on Show

Thunderbird Park, new development of luxury 3-bedroom, 2-bath air conditioned homes in the $25,000 class surrounding private pitching and putting greens one block from Thunderbird Country Club are being previewed to Desert Classic golfers and spectators, it was announced by Arnold Koblenz, principal of Koblenz-DeLancy, sales agents for Thunderbird Park.

A swimming pool is optional, may be included in your 25-year loan, Koblenz pointed out.

Outstanding features, including built-in vanities, sliding glass walls, decorator stone fireplaces, wall to wall wool carpeting, separate dining room, exposed wood ceilings, built-in ranges, ovens, garbage disposals, dishwashers, are described in an unusual souvenir EP album open this week in Thunderbird Park. Recording musical staff. Souvenir album: "The New Sound in Palm Springs" will be given free to all visitors to furnished model homes Thunderbird Country Club.

Tim Tugbutton Has Boiling Rage

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Hon. Timothy Tugbutton came storming into the office today yelling for blood or, anyway, a court martial.

Tugbutton's rage had been boiling up for nearly a week since he had read in his hometown paper, the Alton, Kan., Empire, that some Navy knucklehead, an admiral no doubt, had been wasting the taxpayers' dollars.

"Three million, two hundred thousand bucks," the old man shouted. "They oughta keelhaul the varmint, how'd a critter as dumb as that ever get to be an admiral, anyway?"

"Maybe he wasn't an admiral, Tim."

"Of course he was an admiral," Tugbutton wined. "They don't let lieutenants, captains and such spend that kind of money."

Millions Wasted

Tugbutton spread his copy of the Empire on the news desk and indicated the paragraph that had enraged him, a United Press International story, as follows:

"The General Accounting Office charged yesterday that the Navy wasted $3.2 million buying new aircraft engine parts during a recent 18-month period when it had plenty of excess aircraft engines in storage from which the parts could have been obtained."

Tugbutton said he had had his eye on the Navy for a long time and that the spare parts incident was not the first such snafu.

"Things like that happen all the time," the old man shouted. "And I'll tell you something else and don't forget it, the Army and the Air Force are just as bad, maybe worse."

"This feller Campbell (Joseph Campbell, Comptroller General of the United States) has been turning 'em up for years. This Campbell checks all of the spending and the contracts made by the government. His checkers look for deals in which the government gets gyped or gyps itself and might often then find 'em. Then this Campbell reports to Congress and that's the end of it."

"Congress ought to be ashamed of itself. They don't pay any more attention to these reports than if they were talking about Confederate money. Less, maybe. I'm gonna vote against my congressman from here on out and everybody ought to do the same."

'Sucker Deals'

"It would be a shocker if Congress or this Campbell would just take these reports for one year and add up all the wasted money. Everybody ought to write to their congressmen and demand to know how much money the Army, Navy and Air Force have wasted in the last 12 months on these spare parts and other sucker deals."

Tugbutton was building up a head of steam. He banged his cane on the news desk, kicked over a basket of teletype tape and swept the paste pot to the floor.

"This feller McNamara, what's he going to do about these generals and admirals? Nothing, most likely. That wasn't the way he ran the Ford Motor Co., I betcha. And if he had, young Henry would have given him the sack. That's what President Kennedy ought to do, too if this McNamara can't make his generals and admirals take better care of the people's money. Can him and get another boy!"

State Rally Set For Tamarisk

Former residents of Bremerton and Kitsap County, Washington, will rally Monday in Tamarisk Park for their 11th annual picnic and Al Oass, chairman of the committee preparing the plans, predicted that the attendance record would again be broken.

The reunion annually has drawn former Bremerton residents from a wide area in the western states.

Evening School Writers Are Now Being Published

The most recent success scored by a member of the Writing for Publication class in the Palm Springs Adult Evening School is an article, "Ramblin' North," by Ray Crane, published in the November issue of Trail-R-News.

Crane also shot the four pictures that illustrate the story of an extensive trip he and his wife made with their travel trailer. The Cranes are winter residents, now living at Tramvue Ranch in North Palm Springs.

Four other class members have seen their work in print during the past several weeks. Mrs. Tess Potter, Mrs. Jean O'Halloran, Mrs. Mary Elliott, and "Stax" Graves have had articles in various newspapers, including The Desert Sun.

It has been announced that a play recently written by the instructor, Mrs. Alice Koenig, is to be produced late in March by the Palm Desert Players under the direction of Clay Stearns. Stearns and his group are enthusiastic about the play, which is a three-act farce-comedy entitled "The Valiant Sinners."

Senior Citizens Valentine Dance Set for Feb. 14

CATHEDRAL CITY — Even youngsters are welcomed to the Senior Citizens Valentine Dance here Feb. 14.

Chairman George Eaton has invited everyone to attend the dance which will be held at the Town Hall on N. St. St., starting at 9.

A special five-piece band will furnish music for the dance, according to the announcement. The local chamber of commerce is helping the Senior Citizens group in presenting the affair.

Roz Russell Is Too Chic

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Designer Orry Kelly discovered his greatest problem in preparing Rosalind Russell's wardrobe for "A Majority of One" was to make her look "un-chic." He said, "Put Roz in a flour sack and she comes up looking like French pastry on the rue de la Paix."

Evaporation Can Be Cut With Film

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Interior Department said today automatic dispensers for spraying a thin chemical film to reduce surface water losses from evaporation have undergone a successful two-month field test on Lake Cachuma, near Santa Barbara.

The tests are part of the Bureau of Reclamation's five-year research program in reservoir evaporation reduction, scheduled to continue through 1964.

The goal is to develop practical evaporation-reduction techniques that can be used economically on storage reservoirs. The Bureau has estimated that 14 million acre-feet of water—about 4½ trillion gallons—are lost annually through evaporation from reservoirs and lakes in the 17 western states. This is six times the annual domestic consumption of California's population.

The main feature of the Lake Cachuma tests was the use of automatic, wind-operated dispensing units to lay a one-molecule-thick chemical layer—less than a millionth of an inch—on the water's surface as an evaporation retardant. The chemical used is a mixture of Hexadecanol and Coatedecanol, known as fatty alcohols. The compounds are tasteless, colorless, and harmless to humans, as well as plants, fish, and wildlife.

May Be Another Man In Your Wife's Life

By JESSE BOGUE

NEW YORK (UPI)—There may be another man in your wife's life—and if you've made a good choice you can be happy about it.

He may be handsome or distinguished in appearance, but that's not essential. Brains and ability, he should have.

This is one of the things, the American Bankers Association notes, that the married man with an estate of any size should be thinking of when he worries over how his family might fare in the event of his death, even though he has made a "good will."

The "other man" is the executor for his estate.

In a booklet which the ABA published and which is being made available through member banks, it is said that the executor should be chosen not on the basis of friendship or relationship alone, "but on the basis of competence and ability to handle money matters."

It may give you or your friend a thrill to say to him that "ol' buddy, I want you to watch out for things after I'm gone." But unless the ol' buddy has some experience at the job of handling another's money and property honestly and competently, he may spend an unusual lot of time

DIDN'T KNOW, BUT HE Bought a Lumberyard

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Arlen Mooney came back from his honeymoon two years ago to find, to his surprise, that he had bought a $60,000 lumber yard for the state of Massachusetts while he was gone.

Mooney told House highway investigators Wednesday that he was a land negotiator for the state. Back in 1960, he said, he was supposed to negotiate purchase of the lumber yard to build a federal highway on.

But he got married before he had a chance to start negotiating, and left on his honeymoon.

When he came back, he said, he found someone had bought the yard but signed his name to the papers.

Mooney's boss told the subcommittee that Mooney was on his honeymoon when it happened.

Investigators said the official state files showed that the yard negotiations were settled by Mooney and Frank L. Harney, another state Public Works Department employee.

Harney has been convicted on charges of conspiracy to defraud the government.

The lumber yard has been frequently mentioned in the investigation. The House highway subcommittee said the government

MUSKEGON, Mich. (UPI) — Pupils here have been speaking to pupils around the world through an International Tape Exchange program started by a junior high school English teacher.

Schoolmarm Ruth Y. Terry made the first tape recording in her class. It included the national anthem, the pledge of allegiance and a talk by an Australian exchange teacher. It was exchanged with a tape from Australia. Other tape exchanges followed with schools in Japan, Sweden, England, New Zealand, Germany, India and Austria.

Romberg's 'Desert Song' Features Yvonne Adrian

Pert, petite and pretty and as well as on several television really talented are the adjectives used by the auditions committee in describing the attributes of Yvonne Adrian, who portrays Susan in the San Bernardino Civic Light Opera Association's production of "The Desert Song," at San Bernardino High School, through Feb. 10.

This talented young comedienne often called the "Little Betty Hutton," plays opposite Bobby Van as Bennie in a comic situation which sparks the Romberg favorite with humor.

A singer, actress and dancer, Miss Adrian's role is her first for the San Bernardino group. Her light opera work includes appearances in productions of "The King and I," "Most Happy Fellow," "Oklahoma," "Showboat," "Guys and Dolls," and "Best Foot Forward." She has appeared on the Ed Sullivan, Andy Griffith and Whispering Smith television shows.

OPERATION SUCCESSFUL WASHINGTON (UPI) — Chrysanthemis Papacotis, an 11-year-old Greek girl brought to this country by Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, successfully underwent a heart operation Thursday at Walter Reed Hospital.

The White House said "Mimi" was "holding her own" following surgery to correct a congenital heart malformation. Mrs. Kennedy made arrangements to bring the girl to Washington and is now keeping in touch with the hospital.

READY FOR the rough or the smooth of the Canyon Country Club course, is Frank Sinatra who, like a guest celebrity, signs in for receptionist Norma Hyams. While here, Sinatra sang for the $100-a-plate supper at the Golf Classic dinner, and later sang for late-show audiences at Chi Chi. In the Starlite Room, viewers got much more than their cover charge's worth, when Dean Martin, Jimmy Van Heusen and Sammy Cahn joined Sinatra for the impromptu entertainment.

AT DISNEYLAND

Millions to Be Spent

ANAHEIM (UPI)—Walt Disney's fantasy playland Disneyland has announced a $7 million expansion program for the next two years including such new attractions as a three-complex restaurant operated by the nationally known Stouffer's Company.

The development, now underway in the Adventureland and Frontierland areas, is one of the biggest projects undertaken at Disneyland since its opening in 1955.

Featured in the new development will be the "by reservation only" restaurant "The Bird Room." Other sections of the restaurant include American and European menus, and a Tahitian Terrace overlooking Adventureland with dancing and live entertainment complementing the food.

Completion of these new attractions will bring the total investment in Disneyland to $44 million, compared to the original $17 million when the amusement park opened.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Filmy frosting on the outside of red clay flower pots usually is a sure sign of a healthy house plant.

The coating consists of harmful excess salts that would kill plants if they were not leached out through the clay pots' porous sides every time you water, gardening experts explain.

VILLAGE VARIETY

with Hildy Crawford

Fritz Loewe, who returned from the Orient about a week ago and has been occupying his Racquet Club quarters, went into Los Angeles where he was honored at a dinner at Chasen's given for him by the sponsors of the big Sunday night spectacular "The Broadway of Lerner and Loewe, which will be featured on NBC's Sunday night program. The film will star Maurice Chevalier, Julie Andrews, Robert Goulet and Stanley Holloway and will feature music from the great Lerner-Loewe musicals "My Fair Lady," "Gigi" and "Camelot."

Both Lerner and Loewe have already taped their parts in the Sunday night spectacular so Loewe will be watching the show from in front of the television set at the Gar Moore's, where he will be hosting a party for about 60 friends. Lerner is due on the west coast next month and the famous Broadway team will be at work in Palm Springs completing the screen version of "Camelot" for Warner Brothers, who paid five million dollars for it.

All orchestras and all night club entertainers appearing locally are expected to appear on the day-long marathon that will be staged tomorrow downtown in Palm Springs on the Desert Inn corner across from MFK.

The show, which also will feature celebrities and representatives of Chest agencies will be on the air from 10 a.m. as far into the evening as receipts are coming in.

Crew and cast of a March 10th segment of "The New Breed" were shooting along Palm Canyon Drive at the Spa, the Tennis Club, Andrea of Palm Springs, Wilson, Jewellery Store and at the Police Department the early part of this week, getting a lot of Palm Springs sunshine and background on film.

Brunch lovers at the Ranch Club had a pleasant surprise on Sunday when the popular Duke Mitchell was back with them as master of ceremonies and winder-upper for the fast-paced brunch show. With him were his new combo and entertainer Charley Chaney from the Desert Inn, where the Duke is currently featured.

Also on the show was Jeanne Keller, (she of the zany hats and pianologues) who gladly shared the spotlight with her daughter Patricia Bentley, who visited here following her graduation at UCLA. Ranch Club Owner Noel Clarke and Bud Bachold of Don the Beachcombers, were in the audience, which also included Trav Rogers, the Norm Habers, Roy Harlows, Eddie Silverman, Jack and Ceil Sullivan, the Leo Goldbergs, Ira Reids, Carl Austins and TV Producer Irving Brecher.

Bing Crosby did some recording at the Legion Hall here this week singing a song that is to be used over the title of a new television pilot being produced by Crosby Enterprises.

His wife Kathy and the children joined him today at their desert home. Little two-year-old Mary Frances, named after Bing's sister, was featured on television the other day when she jumped into the swimming pool and swam well enough to pass the Red Cross tests. Said her swimming instructor, "She's an outstanding swimmer."

When Julie London replaces the Mills Brothers at Chi Chi it will be her last engagement before she presents the world and her husband Bobby Troup with a new little trouper.

Sammy Cahn who has written so many award-winning songs, many of them with Jimmy Van Heusen, is sharing his song-styling secret. The current issue of Writer's Digest carries a feature article under his by line, "How to Write Songs."

POOFING THE ROARING 20's are The Andrew Sisters, Maxine, Patty and La Verne, who were roaring themselves in the 30's and 40's. The sisters will be starring on the Starlite Room stage with comic Bobby Sargent and the High Hatters, a dance team, through Feb. 15. Bill Alexander's orchestra plays for dancing.

FOR 'CRUCIBLE'

Witchlore Is Studied

Research must share top billing with acting these days at Riverside Community Players' Theater. Cast members made careful study on the background of the 1692 Salem witchcraft trials, on which "The Crucible," which opened Wednesday night is based.

The notes were made by playwright Arthur Miller during a year of research into court records and periodicals of the time. Each character has a counterpart in history, and tales have been checked for authenticity. Miller has taken some dramatic license, however; for example, he reduced the number of judges to two, and the accusing girls to five.

The central character, John Proctor, is described by Miller as "powerful of body, even-tempered and not easily led . . . In Proctor's presence a fool felt his foolishness instantly — and a Proctor is always marked for calumny therefrom."

The role of Proctor is played by Robert Steinbrink, his wife Elizabeth, a self-righteous woman who finds it hard to express her love for her husband, is portrayed by Bonnie Gould.

"The Puritan community of the 1600's had to cling together, bound by their religion and their common need to survive in a new world on the edge of the terrifying, Indian-haunted wilderness of forest. Their rigid code called for conformity and repression and resulted in the outbreak of hysteria when Abigail Williams (played by Norma Hargus) cried witchcraft against innocent townspeople.

Inflamed by the sacred West Indian voodoo rites of the Barbados slave woman Tituba, Abigail and the other girls, played by Ann Straubinger, Susan Marshall, Barbara Lee Wolfe and Stephanie Scott, see hallucinations and make reckless accusations. Thelma Kessinger appears as Tituba.

Court records have revealed much contention over land in Salem. Larry Pleas has the role of Thomas Putnam, a wealthy and important man of the province, ruthless in protecting his property and ready to buy up land forfeited by the people hung for witchcraft. Jan Carpenter plays the role of his vindictive wife Ann.

Members of the clergy were of course important men in a Puritan village. John Weil appears as Reverend Parris, who comes down to us from the pages of history

Road Picture To Be Subject Of 'Biography'

When Bob Hope and Big Crosby made their "Road to Hong Kong" motion picture in England last year, they unwittingly laid the foundation for a TV special, "Biography of a Movie" will be a one-hour show that will depict the details of the making of this film from inception to world premiere. NBC will air the special May 6 as a Du Pont Show of the Week.

Indians Face Indio Tonight

Tagged as the big game in the Desert Valley League action tonight, is the one between Coach George Hertzke's Indians and the Indio High's Rajahs when they square off at the high school gym.

Both Palm Springs and Indio are knotted with Yucaipa in a three-way tie for runner-up spot in the DVL race and the local Tribemen would like to take all the marbles tonight with a satisfying victory.

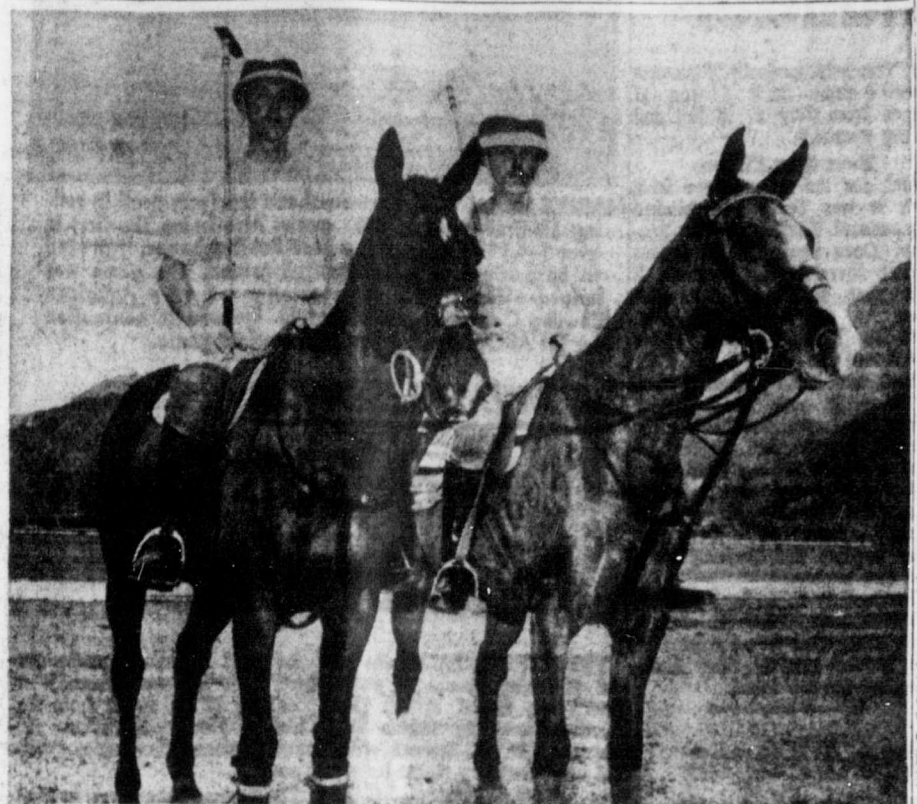

The hot-and-cold Indians have registered two victories over the Rajahs this season. In their last meeting, on the Indio court, the Tribemen throttled the host team, 68-54, as Tyrone Taylor sized the cords for a season and career high of 30 markers.

Taylor and the Rajahs' hot-shot, Rcn Pennington, are neck-and-neck in the battle for the individual scoring derby. They both have dunked in 82 points through the hoop in five league games and are but two points off the pace set by Coachella's George Martinez. The Arabs high scorer slipped to the front in the scoring department when he canned 17 tallies Tuesday night against Twenty-nine Palms.

When the two playmakers tangle face-to-face tonight in an important DVL game, you can bet your "mother-in-law" that the pace will be fast and furious.

Coach Hertzke has been drilling his Tribemen in fundamentals all week and hopes his Indians will be "up" for this do-or-die cage tilt and make it three in a row over the visiting Indio five.

Shrine Play Nets Over $238 Grand For Hospitals

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Last December's Shrine Classic between the East and West here netted $238,030.20 for the organization's 17 hospitals, according to managing director William M. Coffman.

He said that the total take for 37 contests was "in excess of four million dollars" and that 1961 was the seventh straight game in which proceeds had exceeded $225,000.

Coffman presented the check for $238,030.20 to the Shrine's at a ceremony Thursday night.

Mays Wants a Halt to $1,000 Monthly Support

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Willie Mays has asked the Domestic Relations Court to throw out an order calling for him to pay his estranged wife $1,000 monthly in temporary support.

Bergen Van Brunt, representing the San Francisco Giants outfielder, Thursday asked that the order be vacated on grounds that Mrs. Mays has obtained a Mexican divorce and an "amicable agreement" has been reached.

TWO BROTHERS

Nobility Rides for British Polo Team

Two brothers are half of the Hurlingham Polo team of England that will meet the Eldorado "Red" team in the first of three international matches, this Sunday at the Eldorado polo grounds in Palm Desert.

The youngest brother, Captain Lord Patrick (Tristram de La Poer) Beresford, 27, is on active duty with the Royal Horse Guard one of the two Regts., that make up the Household Cavalry.

He started playing polo in 1956 and is a member of the Household Brigade Polo Club (The Life Guard and Royal Horse Guard), plays for Friar Park and member of the unbeaten British Army team which toured Kenya in 1960.

Lord Beresford is a top amateur steeplechase jockey and plays polo with Prince Phillip, the Duke of Edinburgh, on his high goal team (20 goals). He will play number one for Hurlingham and has a 3 goal ranking.

Marquess of Waterford, 28, is the other half of the two brothers who will be seen in action at the Eldorado polo grounds Sunday. He is a member of the British House of Lords as Baron Tyrone, because Waterford is Irish title. Started playing polo in 1953 and is a member of the Household Brigade Polo Club and the All Ireland Polo Club in Dublin.

Played for Friar Park with English 14 goal team in 1960. Plays with Prince Phillip on his 12 goal team. He also is a steeplechase rider, farms and has a thoroughbred stud farm for race horses. Plays number two and has a two goal rating.

O'Dell Inks With Giants

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The San Francisco Giants had 24 men under contract today with the signing of southpaw pitcher Billy O'Dell.

The slick lefty posted a 7-5 record last season after his mark stood at 4-5 on Sept. 16. He went the distance to win the next three games including an 8-2 win over Milwaukee that clinched third place for the Giants.

Two months ago, O'Dell said from his home in South Carolina that he either wanted to be pitched more often or traded.

O'Dell evidently settled for manager Al Dark's comment that "O'Dell has shown me that he can pitch and he will do a lot of it in 1962."

An office spokesman would not disclose how O'Dell's 1962 salary compared with the estimated $25,000 he earned last season.

GO FOR BLUE CHIPS

Big Cage Action by West Coast Colleges

By United Press International
The blue chips are on the table tonight in both the Big Five and the West Coast Athletic Conference.

At Los Angeles, Stanford and USC square off in a battle of twice-beaten quintets. The Indians and Trojans appear to have the strongest squads in the conference, but nobody has told UCLA about this as the Bruins have won four straight. Tonight's loser will just about drop out of the race.

The Cards face the Bruins Saturday night. Other Big Five action finds Washington at California tonight and Southern California Saturday.

The situation is about the same in the West Coast Athletic Conference as co-favorites Loyola and Santa Clara hook up in San Jose. The Lions have lost one and the Broncos two, while lightly regarded St. Mary's is still unbeaten and once-beaten Pepperdine also must be regarded as a contender. Pepperdine takes on San Jose State tonight in the other half of the twin bill and Saturday the Waves meet Santa Clara.

Up in the Northwest, ancient foes Idaho and Oregon meet two times while the big daddy north of the California-Oregon line, Oregon State, goes to Portland Saturday night.

Most of Thursday night's action took place in the Northwest.

Gonzaga knocked off its fourth major independent on its home court with a 74-61 romp over Washington State. Idaho, Seattle and Portland also have been bitten by the Bulldogs, now 12-8 for the year.

Charlie Sells hit 22 for the Cougars to lead scorers, while Bill Wilson had 18 for Gonzaga and Bob Hunt added 17. The Zags have won eight straight in the Spokane Coliseum.

Seattle's Jim Preston hit a tip-in with less than five seconds to go and gave the Chiefs a 76-75 win over Montana State. The Bobcats five starters went all the way and almost pulled off the upset.

Ted Gooding's 24 points brought Willamette a 67-61 win over College of Idaho, and Linfield won 74-60 over Whitman.

ANGELS RELIEF HURLERS

The two most effective relief pitchers for the Los Angeles Angels last year were Tom Morgan and Art Fowler, each with eight saves. Over-all, Morgan won eight and lost two for an .800 percentage. He was topped only by starter Jack Spring who posted a perfect 3-0 record, but Jack came to the club late in the season and saw action in only 18 games to Morgan's 59 high for the club.

Arnie Booms a 1st Round 64

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI)—The touring pros finally are coming to the conclusion that Arnold Palmer is the Ben Hogan of his era—without any Sam Snead to give him competition.

Palmer opened up a big three-stroke gap on the field in the first round of the Phoenix Open golf tournament Thursday when he shot a seven-under-par 64. He leads Art Wall, the former Masters champion, by a trio of shots.

"He belongs with the greats," said Wall. "That's the only way to describe him. He's great."

Said Jay Hebert: "He just has a little more going for him than the rest of us. He has every shot he needs and he's powerful."

Palmer turned his power loose Thursday on a course that has narrow, tree-lined fairways. He outdrove playing partners Bob Rosburg and Davy Hill by as much as 50 yards off each tee. And then he got some puts down, too.

"I've never seen anything like the way he blasted it off the tee," said Rosburg. "It was unbelievable."

"If I could have got some puts down, it would have been a pretty fair round," Palmer joked after the battle.

There's a six-way tie in the 69 bracket, featuring Fred Hawkins, El Paso, Tex.; Bruce Cramp-ton, Australia; Bill Johnston, Phoenix; Don Massengale, Jacksboro, Tex.; Jack Nicklaus, who now bills himself from Tucson, Ariz.; and Gardner Dickinson.

Tramview Defeated By Sahara

The Palm Springs Interpark Shuffleboard league is getting tighter than a pair of new shoes, as the Sahara Players knocked off Tramview, 3-2, to paste the second loss of the season on the leaders.

In other games, Horizon was defeated by Sahara, 4-1; Sun Town knocked off Ramon, 4-1; Tram-tee, said Rosburg. "It was unbelievable."

"If I could have got some puts down, it would have been a pretty fair round," Palmer joked after the battle.

Play in the Shuffleboard league will run until Saturday, March 3, with a game between Horizon and Tramview to close out the season.

Rains Halt Road Races

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (UPI)—Southern California's heavy rain storm has forced cancellation of the Pacific Coast championship road races scheduled for this weekend at Riverside Raceway.

Sponsors of the first major Western Sports car event of the year, the California Sports Car Club and the Sports Car Club of America, said they hoped to reschedule the races for the weekend of March 3-4.

DUREN GOES ROUTE

The Los Angeles Angels' bespectacled pitcher Ryne Duren pitched his first Major League complete game and shutout on the same day last year—Aug. 12, beating Cleveland, 3-0.

Terry Wants NY Bats to Thunder

By OSCAR FRALEY

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (UPI) — Handsome Ralph Terry was hoping today that those record-breaking New York Yankee home run bats would thunder just a little bit more for him this season when he takes dead aim on 20 victories.

On the sidelines five weeks last season with a sprained ligament, the 26-year-old Oklahoman still compiled a fine 16-3 pitching record which was overlooked because of the home run heroics of Roger Maris, Mickey Mantle and company. To do it, he had to pitch three shutouts and earn six of his victories by one run.

"Years from now, I'll be proud to say I pitched on the world championship teams with Maris and Mantle," he said. "But right now, just like any other pitcher, I'd like a few more runs when I'm pitching."

Terry in three years with the Yankees and since being saved from the tortures of pitching at Kansas City, has developed into one of the top Yankee mound stars. He was only 5-11 in 1959, became a 10-8 winner in 1960 and last season really got his teeth into it.

Hurts Arm

The tall man from Chelsea, Okla., ripped off to a 5-0 start but hurt his arm in winning a 3-2 11-inning game against the Cleveland Indians.

"I didn't feel right when I was warming up," he said. "But it was the rubber game of a series and I thought I could get by with soft stuff. In the third inning I got into a jam and had to throw hard. That's when I first felt the stiffness. I finished the game—but was out five weeks because of it."

Those first five wins tabbed him as man destined for the top of the pitching heap. He won them by scores of 4-2, 3-2, 5-1 on a two-hitter, 2-1 and 3-2 in 11 innings.

"I know I can be a big winner," he said modestly, "because after I came back I won 11 games from July 27 to the end of the season."

Threw Flag Clincher

And, for the second year in a row, it was Terry who pitched the pennant clincher for the Yankees. Once again his feat was almost overlooked. Because it was that night at Baltimore, when he set the Orioles down with four hits, that Maris hit his 59th home run.

Now, with his arm feeling "better than it ever has," he is happy to contemplate being the number two Yankee pitcher behind southpaw Whitey Ford. A hard worker and a fierce competitor despite his friendly outlook toward life, Terry yet may become the Yankees' number one pitcher.

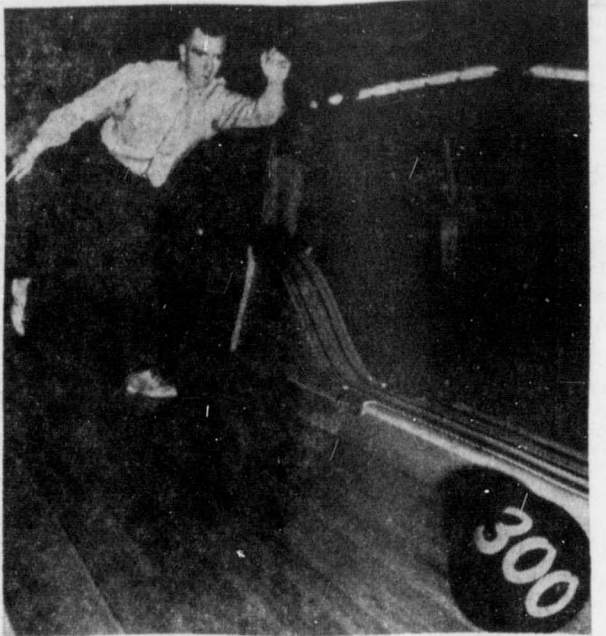

Particularly if, as he hopes, the Yankees start hitting the seats a little more when he's out there on the mound nursing those heart-stopping one-run leads.

Reed Faces Scott in U.S. Tennis Meet

NEW YORK (UPI) — Whitney Reed, the top-ranking American player from Alameda, Calif., plays Gene Scott of St. James, N. Y., tonight, and Wimbledon champion Rod Laver faces Frank Froehling of Coral Gables, Fla., in the quarter-finals of the U.S. indoor tennis championships.

All four advanced to the quarter finals Thursday night along with U.S. Davis Cuppers Chuck McKinley and Don Dell, Ron Holmberg of West Point and Spain's Manuel Santana.

In other matches tonight, the second-seeded McKinley meets Holmberg and Dell opposes Santana.

MARINE 1st Lt. W. F. Brennan shows the form used in rolling his first perfect "300" game. Also being the first in over 144,199 games at the Base Bowling Lanes, it proved to be a night of celebration all around. The game was judged official by a representative of the American Bowling Congress, and places Lt. Brennan in contention for the ABC award for bowling a perfect game.

CROWD GOES WILD

Perfect '300' Game Rolled by Marine

TWENTYNINE PALMS—In one out of 144,199 games, a perfect "300" was rolled at the Base Bowling Lanes by Marine First Lieutenant W. F. Brennan of the 3rd heavy artillery rocket battery, here, Monday evening, Jan. 22. This is the first time the lieutenant has ever bowled a "300" game.

"During the first nine frames the ball hit true," stated Brennan. "It was the last frame that didn't look too good as the ball hit the pins head on... but they all fell." According to Lt. Brennan, it was the crowd support that helped him. Corporal Arthur R. Glenwinkle of the Base Bowling Lanes, said "The crowd went wild when he finished the game. They threw things into the air and went wild with enthusiasm."

For his perfect game, Brennan is assured of winning the American Bowling Congress Award; Brunswick-Balke-Collender Company Award for using their ball, and the American Machine and Foundry Company Award, who made the machinery.

Informed bowling authorities here, have indicated there is a possibility of an award from the Chief of Naval Operations for naval personnel bowling a "300" game.

Lt. Brennan has been bowling for ten years, capturing over twenty trophies in his career.

Jim Ferree Leads in Panama Open

PANAMA (UPI)—Jim Ferree of Crystal River, Fla., held a two-stroke lead going into the second round of the Panama Open golf championship today.

Ferree launched the 1962 Caribbean tour Thursday by firing a five-under-par 67 in the opening round over the rugged Panama course.

Canada's George Knudsen, making his first appearance on the Caribbean circuit, fired eight birdies for a three-under-par 69 that earned him a tie with four other players for second place.

Celtics in $750,000 Law Suit

SYRACUSE (UPI)—Coach Red Auerbach of the Boston Celtics wasn't too concerned today over a $750,000 damage suit filed against him and four of his players by three Syracuse basketball fans.

Joseph Daucio, Jeff Lewis and Lewis' son, Barry, are the plaintiffs in the suit.

Daucio claimed through his attorney, Martin Michaels, that he was standing near the Celtics' bench during a playoff game between Syracuse and Boston here last March 25 when a scuffle broke out. Michaels said Daucio was pushed into the group of Boston players and four of them "jumped and struck him."

The Celtic players named in the suit were Jim Loscutt, Tom Heinsohn, Gene Conley and Frank Ramsey. Conley since has left the Boston club.

Details of the suit were not revealed until the Celtics arrived here for Thursday night's game against the Nationals.

The Celtics' coach declined further comment.

Title Fight Called Off

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Promoter Lou Thomas hoped to set a new date today for the world bantamweight title fight between Eder Jofre of Brazil and Herman Marques of Stockton, Calif.

The original date of Feb. 26 went into the discard Thursday when Jofre, South America's undefeated champ, announced in Sao Paulo that he had incurred a dislocated wrist.

Golfing with ALEX MORRISON Teacher of Champions

Eric Monti, veteran pro tournament winner, knows the advantages of holding the head steady long after striking the ball.

ERIC MONTI'S tournament success through some 20 years is due largely to his skill on the mental side of golf. Recently this helped him to win a sudden-death playoff against George Bayer and Bob Nichols in the Ontario, Calif., Open.

Eric said: "Too many players fail to properly connect the mental and physical sides of the game. Newcomers on the tour often think that they are doing certain things when your action pictures prove otherwise."

I added: "Unfortunately for them, they refuse to accept such evidence as proving the need for a big change in their thinking."

Monti continued: "That's one reason it takes a player many years to learn things such as a steady head position requiring thought about it, not only as a reminder before starting the swing, but constantly all the way through the action until well after striking the ball."

McCovey Has Tough Road Ahead Trying to Become an Outfielder

By SCOTT BAILLIE.
SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The pool game was over and several admirers stood with cues at present arms as Willie McCovey murmured, "I think I'm as good as a first baseman as anybody. But I'll do all I can to become an outfielder."

Clad in a canary-yellow sweater, powder-blue dungarees, basketball shoes and a jaunty hat, Willie relaxed on a bench near the baize table in a local YMCA and thus accepted the challenge to become an outfielder for the first time in his life.

McCovey got the word—indirectly—from manager Alvin Dark of the San Francisco Giants who told a recent banquet, "Orlando Cepeda will be at first base this season. We'll give McCovey a finger glove and see what he can do in the outfield."

The announcement was greeted by hoarse cheers and breaking glass but Willie claims that Dark has yet to tell him in person.

"Nothing to Lose"

"I know that becoming an outfielder will be hard," McCovey said, a faraway look in his eyes. "It's hard to judge flies from such a distance when you're not used to it. If it means gettin' into more games though, I'm for it. Might as well become an outfielder as well as a first baseman."

He only smiled when reminded that there were more experienced hands already in the garden—more than enough to go around in fact. Such as Harvey Kuenn, the Alou brothers and one Willie Mays. Doesn't he feel a bit nervous?

"I've got nothin' to lose and everything to gain so why should I?" McCovey responded. "Heck, if I thought I could have played the outfield I'd have suggested it when I joined the club in 1959. Then there wouldn't have been so much confusion about Cepeda being moved to left field."

Orlando was shifted, however. After a hot streak that made him National League Rookie of the Year in 1959, McCovey went into a 1960 tailspin and he became a scapegoat for many of the Giants' difficulties.

271 Last Year
He batted .238 that year but made a comeback of sorts last season with .271 which included 18 home runs. During the last two campaigns, he has been derided by many critics and subjected to brutal catcalls.

"It all happened when the club started goin' bad in 1960," McCovey said. "They couldn't blame my hittin'. I was doin' all right that first month. So they went after my fieldin'. And when you start hearin' a lot about how bad a fielder you are, it makes you wonder and press."

He contends that he could have hit over .300 last year.

"Alvin Dark gave me the first base job again in 1961 but it was on a 'now or never' basis, just like in 1960 under Bill Rigney," McCovey said. "I wound up .271 last year but I really was hittin' good during the last two months. As good as I ever have."

The records bear him out. He was batting .244 on Aug. 5 and he closed out the season 27 points higher.

"Outfield?" McCovey mused as he picked up a cue and held it like bat. "It means another chance to play. And that's for me."

College Dedicates Road Strip

PALM DESERT — Trustees for the College of the Desert dedicated a 50-foot strip surrounding their 160-acre campus here to the County for public street purposes last night at a public hearing during their regular monthly meeting.

The county received the strip of land as the college's half for roadways surrounding the site. The entire border of the site was handled in on fell swoop by the board although the county will not get around to completing the entire roadway at once.

According to Dr. Roy McCall, college president, the county has promised to have the entire south border — Ave. 44 — and the west border — Monterey from Ave. 44 to the main college entrance — completed by Sept. 1.

Dr. McCall also announced that the county plans to extend Park View from the college's west entrance to highway 111.

In other business at the meeting last night, the trustees accepted a low bid for laboratory equipment for their science building.

It Was Low

The call of $96,998 was over 20 per cent under the estimated budgetary cost of $120,000 and the acceptance was contingent on approval by both sides subject to satisfaction of both the college and the county.

Winning bid of the four made was by the B. F. Shearer company of Los Angeles. It was almost $9,000 under the next low bid. Equipment to be purchased includes cabinets and tables for six laboratories in physics, chemistry and biology.

In other action, the trustees heard a report by Dr. M. W. Ellerbroek, dean of business services, on possible college participation in employee group insurance coverages and approved small structural changes in building of the Campus Center.

Resignation To Run for Supervisor

PALM DESERT — County Supervisorial candidate William W. Cook submitted his resignation from the board of trustees of the Coachella Valley Junior College District at its monthly meeting here last night.

Cook, who had verbally indicated his intention to fellow trustees earlier, also recently resigned from the presidency of the Riverside County Farm Bureau in order to concentrate on the supervisorial race which will be voted June 5.

Each of the trustees wished Cook well, but the group did not act upon the resignation and asked him to stay on through the next meeting, March 8. It is expected that the board will name a successor at an early date.

Cook was appointed to the post in 1958 and was re-elected in 1961. His present term would ordinarily expire in 1965. He is the representative from Palm Desert on the five-member board and his successor is expected to be named from the same area.

Son Makes Film

PALM DESERT — Mr. and Mrs. Frank Little, 44-655 San Carlos Ave., today disclosed that their son, Stanley, has produced an educational film at Whitworth College, Spokane, Wash.

The film, entitled "That Awkward Age," was produced for the psychology and educational departments of the college, Little said. He reported that Stanley is a partner in a new company, Fireside Films, which plans to produce educational films in Southern California.

Indian calumets, or ceremonial pipes, were respected symbols used only on special occasions. One end was usually decorated with the head of a bird.

Reports on Tiny Israel Prime Needs

By PEYTON CANARY

Peace and security for expansion are the prime needs of tiny Israel. Manache Eliachar, president of the Jerusalem Chamber of Commerce reported to The Desert Sun.

Modern Israel, which celebrates its 14th birthday in May with more than 3,200 years of history as the historic homeland of the Jews, has proved already that the tiny David of thoughtful persistence can overcome giants of opposition.

"In the past 10 years our tourism has grown 10 fold, with 170,000 tourists expected as the final 1961 figure," Eliachar said. Within two years, 300,000 tourists are expected in the new nation with the ancient history. Tourism is now second to citrus exports in dollar returns to the nation, but may be fifth in "hard currency" business. The tourist influx — two-thirds of whom arrive by air — has brought some striking changes. One is the present Miami-based ownership of the famed King David Hotel. More important is the governmental inducement to new private enterprise.

Tourist Help

"Israel aids development for tourism and for other business, with financial aid in many cases," Eliachar explained. Tourist facilities in some areas may be aided up to 80 per cent of costs depending on areas. "Of course, the more remote the area, the higher the percentage of aid," he said.

Cooperation with industry to add economic muscles to the little 7,993 square-mile nation has led to some international arrangements with an old Yankee time. Oil lines, Jeep vehicles, and the long-missing Fraser car flourish in Israel. Many of these products go abroad on barter exchanges.

"We import many things on barter agreements with nations that don't have the currency reserves for purchases," Eliachar explained. Agreements have been made with Finland for wood, with Turkey for agricultural products, and with other nations around the world which use Israeli exports of citrus, polished diamonds, motor vehicles, textiles, building materials, fertilizers and pharmaceutical products.

"Because our nation is small

and divided — Jerusalem is itself divided down the middle—we have had to be alert to armed threats as well as economic pressures," Eliachar said. The little nation, founded in 1948 with 650,000 inhabitants, was invaded by the legions of Egypt, Syria, Iraq, Lebanon, Saudi-Arabia and Jordan. The determined troops of the miniature state expelled the invaders, and even carried the fight to the enemy in the embattled Gaza strip. The long armistice in effect since 1949 has been interrupted by saber rattling and minor raids, but no major military action has been mounted since Israeli triumphs in the Gaza.

"We are emphasizing development of the arid Negev," Eliachar reported. The nation has established whole towns to bring both industry and agriculture to the dry lands where once nomadic shepherds eked out a marginal living.

A new city will grow around the site of a nuclear reactor, planned for cheap power in a power-thirsty land. At Ashkelon, an American group is making development on 99 year leases. In 1960, a giant 16-inch oil pipeline was opened from Eliat to Beersheba, where the oil flows to the Haifa refineries. Old six inch pipe lines have been converted to gas transportation, bringing fuel for power plants on the Mediterranean Sea.

Defense Major Item

Eliat, a Red Sea port to serve a booming African trade, is itself a new development cleared after the Sinai campaign. The thriving port has 8,000 inhabitants.

"Defense costs are a major item in our national budget, plus the costs of absorption of immigrants, and the work in Africa. Our income tax maximum may go to 50 per cent this year," Eliachar said. Israel, which has given tax aid to investors — led by Americans — has guaranteed withdrawal of foreign funds, and has arranged tax advantages for investors. The maximum corporate tax has been 50 per cent, and the top personal income tax 46 per cent. Under trade agreement, earnings taxed in Israel are not taxed again in the United States. The potential difference for old investors could be 45 per cent of the gross.

Aid to industry is reflected in the National Oil Company reports prepared for private investors. Operating with a multi-million Israeli pound budget, the non-profit governmental group served by Eliachar aided gas and oil explorations which led to new oil fields in the Negev.

Unknown Quantity

"The total quantity is unknown now, but the production provides 15 per cent of our requirements," Eliachar said.

In Africa, Israel plays a major role in updating undeveloped nations. Israeli investments are made with stipulations that the national investment must be bought out within five years.

"The small nations seem to pre-

Were Fascinated With the Palms, Then a Problem

A New York city couple, who had vacationed in Palm Springs during the Christmas holidays were so fascinated by the palm trees, just before returning to the east they purchased a small palm tree to take home with them.

Several weeks later they wrote and subscribed to The Desert Sun and explained that they wanted to keep abreast of the news throughout the desert, but also it would give them a guide as to when to water the palm tree.

When it rains in Palm Springs, the transplanted desert palm tree in New York city should be watered.

Holiday for Lincoln's Birthday

City employees — except on-duty police, firemen and sanitation department workers — will be freed Monday, to celebrate Abraham Lincoln's birthday.

The holiday doesn't apply to the banks in Palm Springs, or to public schools. Schools will have a minimum day Feb. 22, to celebrate Washington's birthday — and allow some attendance in the National Date Festival and Riverside county fair. Bank employees are expected to be off Feb. 22.

The schools will observe Decoration Day this year, in place of Lincoln's birthday.

Day Nursery Gets Donation From Chairman

Mrs. Glenn Austin, president, announced that Mrs. Frank Bennett has donated $500 to the Community Day Nursery, when Palm Springs Chapter of Waif Adoption International Fund met at the Smoke Tree Ranch home of Mrs. Arthur Bailey for its regular monthly meeting. Mrs. Bennett, who is chairman of the Day Nursery project, said the $500 represented profits from the artificial fruit and flower arrangements, which she makes in her home studio.

Mrs. Austin presented a new active member Mrs. Robert Marx and introduced Mrs. V. M. Barton, who was a guest of Mrs. Ben Read.

Mrs. Tony Capps, WAIF Ball invitation chairman, reported that 150 invitations had been mailed out the first of the month and reservations are already being made for the March 10th event.

Mrs. Donald McDermott and Mrs. Chase Garfield presided at the tea table during the social hour, which followed the meeting.

MRS. RICHARD OLSON, the former Gloria Elizabeth Fox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Edward Fox of Palm Springs, was wed in a double-ring ceremony at Sts. Felicitas and Perpetua Church in San Marino.

Gloria Elizabeth Fox Recites Vows with Richard Allan Olson

Rings were exchanged by Gloria Elizabeth Fox, daughter of the John Foxes of Palm Springs, and Richard Allan Olson, son of Mrs. Ralph Lombardo of Woodland Hills and the late Gustave Olson, during a wedding ceremony held at Sts. Felicitas and Perpetua Catholic Church in San Marino.

The bride wore a princess-styled peau de soie gown with a petalled skirt, that was trimmed in Alencon lace. A crown of matching lace and seed pearls held her French pouf veil, and she carried white stephanotis on her prayerbook.

The maid of honor, Christine Roncelli, and bridesmaids wore sapphire blue satin sheaths, and carried bird of paradise bouquets. Bridesmaids were Mmes. John Serpico, Robert Faxon and Edward Evans, and the Misses Janice Bak-

Champagne, which was served with a three-tiered wedding cake, flowed from a fountain in the Huntington-Sheraton Ballroom, where 400 guests attended the reception.

The bride attended Pasadena City College and the University of Southern California, and has recently graduated from St. Luke's Hospital nursing school.

A graduate of the University of Florida, the groom attended Notre Dame High School and is now an insurance investigator.

Following a honeymoon at La Jolla and Ensenada, the couple will reside in Van Nuys.

Best man to the groom was Kent Smith, and his ushers were John Serpico, William Stickel, Robert Frasco, Robert Formica and Ronald Chandler.

Let's All Bake a Valentine Cake

Make strawberry frosting for a valentine cake the quick, easy way, with fluffy white frosting mix and a strawberry-flavored mix for beverages. Combine 1/4 cup of strawberry-flavored mix with 1/2 cup of water in a saucepan. Bring to boil over high heat, stirring to dissolve. Remove from heat. Add 1 (6 1/2 ounce) package of fluffy white frosting mix and beat at low speed with electric mixer until blended. Continue at high speed until still peaks form.

Shrine Club Plans Party

Cupid will be out to get Shrines, when they attend a gala Valentine Party at El Mirador on Feb. 13.

Ted Kidwell will pluck his guitar to romantic tunes during the cocktail hour, from 7 to 8 p.m., and a prime rib dinner will be served at 8.

Dress for the evening will be black tie, announced Commander Reginald Venable, president, and dinner will be followed by dancing to Eddy Howard's orchestra.

Reservations may be made by calling Maitre d' Gene or Leonard at El Mirador.

Mrs. Robert Blashek Honored While Here to Visit Parents

A former Villager, Mrs. Robert Blashek (nee Joni Margolis) who is here from Scarsdale, New York, visiting her parents the David Margolis, was guest of honor at a Tennis Club luncheon hosted by Mrs. Charles Brown.

The festive group gathered for pre-luncheon cocktails on the balcony in the Bougainvillea Room before being seated around the long window-side table. A long low arrangement of gold, yellow, white and red flowers centered the luncheon table, which was spread with a gold cloth and sparkled with red goblets.

Luncheon which started out with a California fruit cocktail featured a tornado of beef and ended with a creme de menthe sherbet parfait.

Guests included Mrs. Margolis and her daughter Mrs. Blashek, and Mmes. George Kaplan, Dan Kaplan, Robert Alexander, Robert Marx, Zachary Pitts, Stanley Rosin, Harry Powell, Emil Laufer, Norman Haber, Robert Levin, Myer Gensburg, Sydney Charney, Sam Bork, Fred Gladstone, Ted Kingley (here from Manhasset, L. I.), Joe Trackman, Blossom Adelman of England and Miss Bess Emanuel.

Mrs. Blashek and her children will be in Palm Springs until mid-March, with her husband joining them here around the end of February.

The Browns, who are annual winter residents (they bought the Joe Pawling home on Lilliana Drive three years ago) are also from the east, where they own and operate the famous Brown Hotel in the Catskills. The hotel is the one where Jerry Lewis started out as a bell boy and now one of its two night clubs is named the Jerry Lewis Room and he has entertained there. The other is the Brown Derby. The hotel has five swimming pools and can feed 900 people at a time.

FIFTY TWO YEARS AGO today Mr. and Mrs. Alex H. Wood of Desert Hot Springs were married in Nebraska and they are in a Valentine mood today.

Two Teenagers From Hi-Desert Enter Contest

At Twentynine Palms, the Hi-Desert Auxiliary of Angel View Crippled Children's Foundation is joining with other auxiliaries in sponsoring the annual "Teen Angel Contest," which will run from Mar. 13 through Apr. 13, when the Teen Angel of 1962 will receive her halo.

First entrants in the Hi-Desert area are Barbara Irwin, sponsored by the Staff Non-Commissioned Wives Club of the Marine Corps Base, and Nana Tokarz, sponsored by the Auxiliary of World War I American Legion of Joshua Tree.

Any girl between the ages of 13 and 19, who resides in the area between Morongo Valley, is eligible to enter the contest.

Entrants may be sponsored by an organization, or each can raise money on her own. Each penny collected will be counted as a vote, and the contestant gathering the most votes will be crowned Teen Angel.

Each girl and her mother will be feted with teas, luncheons, fashion shows, television appearances, a visit to Angel View Foundation and a grand ball.

During the 1961 contest, the Hi-Desert Auxiliary made an excellent showing, with Ann Bruford, the entry from the Marine Corps Base, receiving a special award for bringing in the most out-of-state money.

The girls did baby sitting, washed cars and wrote letters to out-of-state friends asking them to contribute a penny for each year of their age.

Any teen-age girl in the Morongo Valley area interested in entering may obtain further information by writing Bernice Buchanan, Box 921, Yucca Valley, or Jean Cummings, Box 745, Twentynine Palms.

Desert Hospital Auxiliary to Hear of Cancer

Marye Shannon Harrington, a member of the Cancer Clinic in Los Angeles will discuss the "Relation of the Cancer Clinic to the Community" when she appears on the program of the Women's Auxiliary of Desert Hospital on Monday.

Members and guests are invited to attend the meeting which will be held in the Nurses' residence at 2 p.m.

Refreshments will be served immediately following the meeting.

Opti-Mrs. to Meet in May

Palm Springs Opti-Mrs. Club, holding their monthly luncheon meeting at the Biltmore, learned that their president, Marjorie Bar-on has been appointed as Welcoming Hostess for the Optimist wives who will be attending the May convention to be held here at the Riviera. The appointment was made by Governor Monroe Marlow.

To welcome the 2000 Optimists of Optimist International, and their wives, who will be attending the convention, the local Opti-Mrs. Club will wear Palm Springs hats and squaw dresses, it was decided.

Entertainment will include a full schedule of golfing, style shows, cocktail parties and an old-fashioned clam bake.

Like a crown on a Queen was the Renaissance Porcelain painting by O. E. L. Graves, which was the motif for the cocktail-supper given by Ethel and Mel Eaton at their Thunderbird Heights home on Pecos Road.

In a way the party was also a housewarming for the Eatons' new home which they moved into this fall, but guests were especially invited for the unveiling of the painting. Created over the fireplace and shaped free form to fit around the little gold Italian clock and outlined by four hand carved Della Robbia pieces, the handsome painting has captured the atmosphere of the home. It has the Italian feeling so noticeable in the fabulous Venetian chandeliers and the color tones of golds and soft yellows and greens and ivory and rust pink. It has a musical theme with three lovely ladies of the medieval period playing a golden harp, a violin and a golden piano.

The hostess, charming in a champagne hostess gown with long flowing skirt and beaded, beaded and embroidered bodice, with long sleeves and low cut back, told her guests how the painting came about, how her long-time friend Helen (Mrs. Jack) Kenaston first took her to visit Graves' studio many years ago and she wanted his work in her new home and asked him to create one of his new porcelains.

When she unveiled the painting, with the artist's help, everyone agreed that this is a new masterpiece for Graves. Maggie (Mrs. Co) Thornton said it "should be in Pitti Palace in Florence," and Dolph Obergfel took a look and said whimsically, "I'm going home and tear up my Mickey Mouse cartoons."

As we sat at a small table in the gallery in the dining room, after filling our plates with lobster thermidor, Caesar salad, fried chicken and home-baked bread from Santos' buffet supper, we watched the electrically-operated fountain next to us, admired the Boehm birds in the wall cabinets and the curve of the floor-to-ceiling windows at the other end of the room, and the silken brocade covering the walls, and talked with Jock Williamson about the house. Jock who was there last summer supervising everything, while the Eatons were back east, made a dramatic story of it. They bought the lots in May, he said, then they sketched out what they wanted and went off to New York "leaving it to the builders and me. When they came out this fall they moved into the completed and furnished house."

Among the guests was Andrea Leeds Howard for whom Graves made the first Renaissance porcelain about a year ago. The Jack Kenastons were there and both the James and the Hathaway Kempers, the Dolph Obergfels (Kay is Golden Door slim), Frank Hoys, Walter Cruttenburgs, Co Thornton, Earl Cordreys, Jack Blighs, Doris and Joe Hutchins, Mrs. Sydney Schiff and Mrs. George Barrett.

With the Graves, Bud and Vie, were her sister and brother-in-law Dorothy and Floyd Anderson of Vancouver, who have been holidaying here. They are off to Mexico and Arizona but will be back for the unveiling of Vie's New Year's portrait on Feb. 17.

The flaming chocolate baked Alaska that set the seal on the supper party, also set the seal on a pleasant party. A few lingered on to discuss the paintings and wander outside past the pool, to where the rose gardens fill the terrace, and look down where the lower lots have been planted with orange trees and admire the beautiful view.

Here for a three week visit with Rita Crosson are her relatives, an aunt Mrs. Anna Jacobson and cousins, Mrs. Irma Heldt and Hertha Jacobson of Philadelphia. The visitors are on their way home from Shanghai.

Helen and Ken Kirk will entertain at the first of a series of parties when they host about 30 friends at cocktails at their home followed by dinner at the Racquet Club, honoring the Don Witherbees of Los Angeles who will be house-guesting with them on Feb. 17.

Helen Braunschweiger thought this week that she and Walter may finally make the long-postponed trip to South America next month. They would be traveling with a group of American businessmen on a good will mission. If this doesn't materialize the Braunschweigers plan to go to New York and over to Nassau, as they have leased their Rock Point home to the Bert Matties of San Francisco, who want a little desert sunshine while he convalesces from a recent illness.

Open House at Thrift Shop

Open house will be held at the new headquarters of the Angel View Thrift Shop, 66-325 W. Pierson Blvd., on Feb. 14, from 7 to 9 p.m. Mrs. James G. Pack, chairman of the Founders Auxiliary of Angel View Foundation, said today.

The shop is operated by the Founders Auxiliary for the benefit of Angel View Foundation.

Refreshments will be served at the open house and the public will be able to purchase merchandise, Mrs. Pack said.

Pathfinders Plan Tea for Membership

The board of directors of Palm Springs Pathfinders, holding its February luncheon meeting at Holiday Inn, planned to hold a Membership Tea on Feb. 26 from 2-4 p.m., to which all active and inactive members of Pathfinders will be invited.

The tea, which will be hosted by board members, will be held in the Malouf play house on Via Las Palmas.

Pathfinders President Mrs. Victor Hugo-Vidal will be assisted in hostess duties by Mmes. William B. Malouf, Walter Braunschweiger, Clarence Brown, Walter Brunmark, Earl Buckingham, John Costello, William Crawford, John Dawson, Edwin Fallgren, Joseph Froggatt Jr., S. P. Manasse, Austin McManus, Dolph Obergfel, George Robertson, Walter Sibbert, Norman Waters and George Wheeler.

The Everett Balls Host Party Before Chamber's Installation

Preceding the annual Chamber of Commerce installation dinner at El Geles.

Mirador the Everett Balls (he's a director of the Chamber) entertained at a cocktail party at their Caballeros home.

Guests were especially interested in the many oil paintings, the work of the host, that cover the walls of the Ball home. The chicken vol au vents that were served as hot and Ed McCoubrey, the Joe Henhors d'oeuvres were prepared by dersons, Herb Samsons, Cliff the hostess and won many compliments. Helping their parents, well-Adolph Pervy, Mr. and Mrs. Toby come the guests were the two Curtis, Harold Wests, Dr. and Mrs. young daughters of the household William Elliott, Miss Lucille John-Francesca and Jocelyn and Master son, the Tom Kieleys, George Pry-Tevy, and the hostess's mother ors, Don Frys and others.

ABSTRACT PAINTINGS, all the work of the host, cover the walls in the Everett Ball home on Avenida Caballeros, and caught the interest of guests attending the cocktail party which the Balls hosted

Grin and Bear It

By LICHTY

TV in Review

By FRED DANZIG
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI) — "Nightmare at Bleak Hill" overcame the handicap of its billing as a "chilling drama" Wednesday night and proved to be a serviceable, intelligently-handled story. The "U.S. Steel Hour" presentation on CBS-TV dealt with the problem of a sensitive, haunted nine-year-old boy whose life was crammed with both the creature comforts and the nightmarish conviction that he had murdered his hated older brother.

Into this child's life came a new tutor, an ex-serviceman with a disability of his own — an artificial foot — and a sympathetic approach to the poor little rich boy's problems. The tutor, superbly played by Donald Madden, displayed patience, understanding and good sense and uncovered the source of the boy's fears. He also reshaped a father-son relationship that had become badly warped through a communication breakdown.

A.L. Barker's story, turned into a TV play by Lois Landauer, was handled by an excellent cast headed by Douglas Fairbanks Jr. as the father, Leora Dana was the wicked aunt and Royston Thomas as the boy.

Director Fielder Cook had his cameras establish the quiet, searching mood of the piece by floating numerous close-ups into the eloquent expressions of his players. An air of studied calm mingled with the undercurrent of tension and torment in that big mansion on Bleak Hill thanks to the pacing of the scenes, Cook's good taste with his groupings and camera angles. It was, if I may use that over-used word, a sincere effort and it made for a highly acceptable hour.

One footnote: This was, after all, the "Steel Hour," so when Donald Madden explained to the boy about his artificial foot, he said it was made of "a lightweight alloy." Like, pardon the expression, a-l-u-m-i-n-u-m?

The Channel Swim: "The Loves of Claire Ambler," a "U.S. Steel Hour" drama for Wednesday, April 14 on CBS-TV, will star Maurice Evans, Janice Rule and Nancy Carroll.

Tax Proposal Threat to Development

Eternal vigilance has to be the watchword of any group or individual subject to the tax-levying agencies on all levels.

Once a tax scheme is evolved, the agency or department conceiving it is difficult to divert and becomes a continuing battle between the taxpayer and the taxer.

The Palm Springs Board of Realtors has been alerted by its president, Isabelle Cameron, that a tax threat thought averted last year, is still very much alive and that immediate action is necessary to quiet a serious menace to the orderly and continuing development of this area.

Last year the Treasury Department proposed a change in the capital gains tax derived from the sale of real estate used in a trade or business or held for the production of income.

The House Ways and Means committee rejected this proposal in September.

But now word comes that the Treasury Department refused to take "no" for an answer and declined to be rebuffed. The Realtors' Washington committee has informed the Palm Springs Board and realtors across the nation that the department has renewed its fight for the change in the tax system and launched a strong drive to influence the Ways and Means committee to reverse itself and approve the provision.

The Treasury wants the gain on the sale of real estate to be taxed as ordinary income to the extent of the depreciation taken.

In pointing out what this would mean if the Treasury prevails, the Realtors' president cited the hypothetical case of a 4-family dwelling, the acquisition cost of which, exclusive of the cost of land, is $40,000. Not being new construction, the owner uses the 150 per cent declining method of depreciation and a useful life of 33 years. At the end of eight years, his depreciation deductions have aggregated $13,000 leaving the property with a book value of $27,000. The taxpayer sells the property for $35,000, a gain of $8,000. Under existing tax law this gain is taxed at the capital gains rate. Under the Treasury proposal to change the law, it would be taxed at the higher ordinary income tax rate.

The depressing effect on the real estate industry and therefore on the entire national economy would be widespread.

The immediate result of a reversal of the stand taken last year by the House Ways and Means committee undoubtedly would be the wholesale unloading of heavily depreciated properties by owners seeking to get out from under before the change became effective. After enactment, the higher tax on the gain would curb sales.

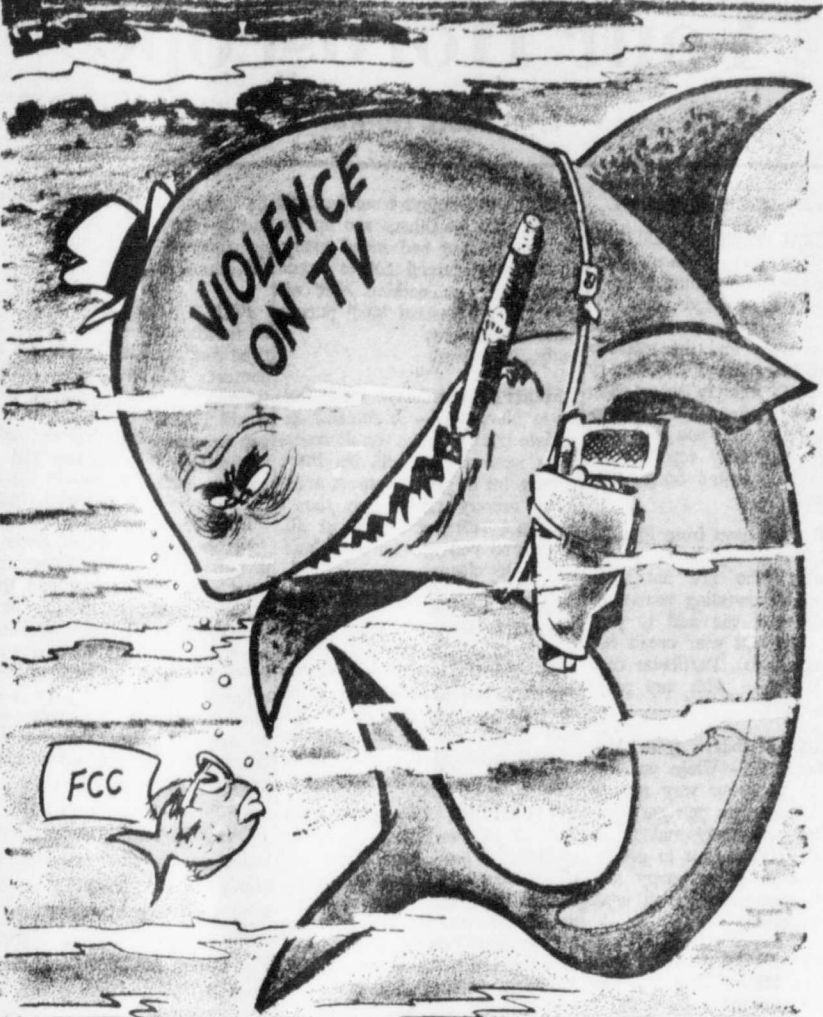

Investment in shopping centers, office buildings would be discouraged. The entire community would suffer.

Property owners should write their congressman at once, pointing out the adverse effect on development if the House committee recedes from its action of last fall, rejecting the Treasury proposal.

Action to protest the proposed change in taxation methods cannot safely be delayed. The committee is considering the request now and is expected to make its decision known soon.

It is not a matter for the realtors alone. Everyone has a stake in the final verdict.

THIS SIDE Of The Sun

R. F. "Phat" GRAETTINGER

There'll come a deigh.
And it's over-dough.
When I'll find a weigh
To spell it a-nough.

Looks funny, doesn't it. But it's logical. And no wonder Johnny has trouble reading, let alone spelling.

HAVING NOTHING BETTER to do the other night, I sat contemplating my dictionary. That book has a larger vocabulary than any book I've ever read.

Getting back to that attempt at verse up at the top. If I weigh is way, why can't deigh be day?

Pursuing this orthographic maze a bit deeper, I find that if you're going away, you're headed for some place else but if you're going a-weigh, you want to see what that hunk of apple pie a la mode did to your diet.

NOW, YOU TAKE that sequence of letters, "ough." They comprise the most unreliable and irresponsible quartet of letters. With a "thr" up front, they make the oo sound. So, like that effort up above again, why isn't dough pronounced due? Or a-nough, anew?

But they pronounce dough like in doe. And enough comes out nuff. It's crazy, man.

THEN THERE'S bough. One of those things that sticks out of a tree and knocks off your glasses if you're too precipitate. That's pronounced bow, like when you're obsequious.

So if bough is bow, why isn't cough cow? You know, Mrs. Bovine, where JFK got his idea—and milk—to shake up the Washington news correspondents.

But cough, as in a throat tickle, is coff.

AND IF DOUGH is with the long o sound, how come enough is enuff? Why didn't women in past years, pack along a mough to keep their hands warm on a chilly day.

Dough, pronounced like the distaff side in the deer family, goes good in bread. But if you make dough rhyme with enough, you've got a pudding.

Then we have Hough, which is neither hue, huff, how or hoe. Just huff, like when you're mad or in Earl's last name.

HOW ABOUT sale and sail? A sale is when some merchant wants to get rid of something. And when you go out in a boat, you sail. And a lot of people get rid of something, too.

Then there's male, meaning the weaker sex. And mail, which is going to cost more pretty soon. And all of us will be stuck.

The cost of a letter goes up a cent which a lot of us think has a scent.

HOPPING OVER to the S section—sure and sugar pick up an H somewhere, shure and shugar. If they didn't sure might belong to the department of sanitation.

But if you take somebody to court, you sue him, no H, or it would be shoe.

So if you can (or kan) see why the kids have trouble spelling, it drives some groan up people knuts, or maybe gnuts, too, to, or two.

So the next time they put the wrong soes on a hoarse at Santa Anita and I'm slightly depleted, I'm going to shue them. That would sow them.

Dear Abby...

DEAR ABBY: I am a 15-year-old girl. My boy friend is the same age. His birthday is coming up soon and I want to give him a present. I don't get a regular allowance. I did earn a little money baby-sitting, but that all went for cosmetics and things like that. I asked my Dad if he would give me about $20 so I could buy my boy friend a sweater and all I got was a big lecture about how the kids of today don't know the value of a dollar . . . all that jazz. You'd think I had asked him for a million dollars. Can you put something in your column to let my father know that times have changed and that $20 is no big deal any more? —BUGGED

DEAR BUGGED: If $20 is "no big deal any more," why didn't you save it? At the present baby-sitting rates, it shouldn't have taken you long—if you had really wanted to. Your father is right.

DEAR ABBY: Ross and I went together for two years. He is 29 and I am 24. I knew all along I wasn't in love with him, but I didn't want to hurt his feelings because he was completely in love with me.

Finally, I couldn't put off his proposals any longer. I told him I thought of him only as a "friend" and I didn't think I should see him any more. He cried like a baby, so I agreed to date him if we could be just "friends." He begs me to kiss him and I feel so sorry for him

I give in, but I don't feel anything. Now he's talking marriage again. How can I untangle myself from him? He says rather than break up with me, I should continue to date him and we will be "just friends." Please help me.—SOFT HEARTED

DEAR SOFT-HEARTED: Don't kid yourself. He might be a "friend" to you, but you are more than a "friend" to him. He hopes to wear you down and get you to marry him after all. (This has been known to happen.) Break—and break clean. He'll live.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "Janet": Marry him anyway. Every med student has a skeleton in his closet.

How is the world treating you? Unload your problems on Abby, care of this paper.

Letters to The Editor

The Editor
Desert Sun

A group of us have been discussing a letter you printed recently from a Mrs. Albert C. Wagner about roads and giving the tourists the Dickens for cluttering up the streets of this fair city! "Rude tourists" she calls us.

There are dumb natives here, too!

We came down here from Minneapolis, Minnesota, early in the season. We rented an apartment for $350 a month, take most of our meals out, buy lots of gas and other essentials. In our apartment are many very fine people who came from the east later than we did. They have NO cars to clutter up the roads because they couldn't get out with them on account of snow. During the recent cold spell, their days were long as they could not go out walking, so a group of us (six) drove over to Phoenix, Arizona.

We got there a miserable, cold night, stopped at a motel and a smiling, happy lady gave us an evening paper! When we read it, we got the surprise of our lives! There was a list of the activities that were on that evening! What a welcome change! We chose an "All States dinner" that they were having and found it to be fun! We told the name of our state as we entered and were ushered to our state table where we were introduced to the people already there!

The next day we went on a Don Juan bus trip that was a barrel of fun! EVERY day (although cold and wintery) was a barrel of fun! We intended to stay one night and we stayed EIGHT! More pleasure than we'd had all winter!!

Soooooo next winter, guess where we are all going! To Phoenix, Arizona!

Dumb tourists, indeed! Mrs. Wagner and a lot of you in Palm Springs have a LOT to learn! Generally when one has an "industry," he learns something about it! It's a really good policy!

Respectfully yours,
E. J. CARTER,
for a group of dumb, rude tourists, who have never had a traffic ticket and been driving a lifetime!

BOB CONSIDINE:

Cape Canaveral Adopts Views All of Its Own

CAPE CANAVERAL — The range of man's emotions is broadened here. He prays harder, wishes more mightily, curses more vehemently, mourns deeper, and his spirit can soar to new heights.

He knows he might see an astronaut die like a sacrificial offering atop some ancient pillar of fire. And he knows, too, that if all goes well the same astronaut can vault gloriously into space, not eternally.

Go to any other area in the U.S. And there is talk of many things: The Congo, Laos, the President's legislative program, integration, foreign aid, the theater, travel, books, the arts, even the Twist, America's lowliest achievement since the development of the penny slot machine.

Here you talk aerospace or you don't talk at all.

You look at the astronauts as you haven't looked at any other group since the first day you saw the Yankees trot out on the field, led by a stout gentleman named Ruth. You know, and they know, that one of these months or years one of them, or the kids following in their footsteps, will "buy the farm," as fliers describe it so vividly. A reporter finds himself reluctant to question these incredible men, any more than you'd over-question a priest or a president.

Subject is Startling

The whole subject of voyaging off the Earth is startling, the cost beyond comprehension. A misfire that hardly rates a paragraph in the papers often constitutes, in dollars, more money than a vast majority of us as individuals will earn during our entire working lives.

Everybody's heard about the Saturn rocket, tall as an 18-story building. But nobody, outside the Cape, seems to remember that the pad on which it sits—just the pad—costs $14,000,000. The gan-try (work tower) which embraces it is the tallest structure in the state of Florida and, as far as we know, the largest moving object on land. Rocket, pad, gantry have been used just once, but they're already obsolete.

A man can hear heavy dreams unfurled here:

Medical operations in space, for there is no infectious germ life there; fight all wars in space, and thus save the Earth. Buck Rogers was a piker.

But it is not all science fiction here. It is people who lament their problems as must have Columbus. And there is the savings grace of man's antic nature.

It Missed Cuba

For example, a scientist was bemoaning the costly failure of the Defense Department's complicated five-satellite launch this week. The second stage of the booster could not produce orbital speed and so the incredibly complicated moonlets fell into the Atlantic Southeast of the Cape. He listed the loss, satellite by satellite.

"Don't forget the big loss," a friend reminded him. "The rocket failed to hit Cuba."

A pal borrowed a spaceman's car recently and was told just where to pick it up. He found it, surprising beat up. And this note on the steering wheel: "Takes good care of this car, please. It is used by my grandmother on Sundays. In stock car races."

There's talk of those ancient days when men needed wings to fly, too. Marty Caidin, prolific space writer and commentator, came up the other night with a story about the B-24 of World War II. It will make veterans of that odd 4-engine job wince, and B-17 crewmen rejoice.

"The B-24 was a triple threat bomber," he said. "It could strafe a target with its machine guns, drop its bombs on the target, then fall on it."

Wonder if such things go on at

No doubt some severe damage, moral as well as financial, has been done to American relief administration by fraudulent claims. But it is a close question whether all the "chiseling," detected and undetected, has done as much harm or resulted in as much waste as some of the provisions, mostly growing out of apathy or resistance to any relief, which stultify initiative.

Prominent among these is the practice, embodied in law, of deducting from relief allowances the full amount of any earnings the recipient — possibly a dependent mother, a long unemployed father or partially disabled person — may make as a contribution to his or her family's support. This discourages the taking of a possible part-time job or self-help by a teen-age member of the family.

Abraham A. Ribicoff, Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare, has proposed an important step toward improvement of this situation. It is that working mothers be allowed to use earnings of their own to cover school needs of their children, such as books, shoes, lunches, and bus fares without having that money deducted from their allowances under "aid to dependent children." The same rule change would apply to earnings of the children so used.

This is an amendment so manifestly right that Congress should enact with gusto and the states support it with relish.

(Christian Science Monitor)

With the color of the trading stamp swaying the flow of consumer traffic from store to store, a group of manufacturers has now joined the game. Their products — in noncompetitive lines, of course — will include on their labels identical coupons which the purchaser can clip and save until she has enough for a selection of alluring "gifts." And these in addition to "gifts" from the other types of vari-colored trading stamps with which she is filling her books.

As costs rise and the home-maker shakes her head over how little her dollar buys, one wonders whether it ever occurs to her that part of it goes to buy "gifts" that she gets "free" with stamps and coupons.

It might be cheaper for the American public if it were willing to pay for what it gets instead of trying to get more than it pays for — in the process paying a high premium for fooling itself.

Unfounded Charges Dangerous, Too

It is naturally a matter of utmost concern to every citizen that some person with a maladjusted mentality, or some persons fitting into the same classification, sought to bomb the homes of two ministers in the San Fernando area.

But it should also be a matter of concern of every thinking citizen in the way that certain politicians and factions seized upon the treacherous acts to point an accusing finger at those of opposing political beliefs.

Because the two ministers who were the targets of the cowardly bomber were outspoken critics of the extreme right and planned to attack that mode of thinking in an open forum, the charges were immediately hurled that the sneak attack was fostered by the rightists.

But the extreme rightists are not blameless in this tossing of unfounded conclusions. They immediately said it was the work of extreme leftists seeking to embarrass the extreme right.

The bombing has been condemned on every side, except perhaps by the persons of warped minds who perpetrated the crime.

But pre-judgment of the guilt along political lines is to be condemned, too.

Jumping at conclusions can be as dangerous to this country as the extreme right or extreme left.

HOLMES ALEXANDER:

Two People - to - People Senators

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The U.S. Senate, like life itself, is full of pleasant surprises. Senators Harry Byrd and William Fulbright, two of the best-liked yet least accurately-portrayed Southerners of the clubby upper chamber, went to the grassroots during the last recess, and each had a perfectly wonderful time in ways that do not at all fit their public images.

Senator Byrd, the Virginia apple farmer and patriarch, flew 35,000 miles around the world, with a side trip or two, accompanied by a 20-language linguist so that he could talk with the folks far from the diplomatic centers in Japan, India, Nepal, Thailand, South Vietnam, Hong Kong, Italy and way stops.

Although Mr. Byrd was traveling primarily to equip himself with knowledge on measures that will come before the Finance and Armed Services committees, he paid his own way. This is characteristic of the Senate's finest gentleman and legislative scholar, but almost exotic by modern political standards. I asked him why he went into his own pocket, and he said as casually as if he were imparting the time of day:

Should Pay Own Way

"If a man's able to pay his own way, he ought to do it. Besides, I wanted to do things, like mountain climbing, that were not strictly chargeable to committee work."

Traveling unofficially, he dined with only two Ambassadors and avoided anything like a guided tour. The Finance Chairman, who will preside over the President's Trade proposal Senate hearings, saw Japanese girls working at 28 cents an hour with American-bestowed machinery. Legalized abortion has halted runaway population in Japan, where the increase in the annual birthrate is only 1.5 per cent, while India's is 3 per cent.

As ranking Democrat on Armed Services, where the President's new world-wide military policies are under review, Mr. Byrd stood at the electrified wire fence between British Hong Kong and Red China, flew in a single-engine plane around the lower ranges of Mt. Everest in the Himalayas, which stand partly in Nepal and partly in Tibet, and discussed guerrilla warfare and Red infiltration tactics with on-the-spot observers.

No true Virginian is ever a defeatist, and Mr. Byrd does not believe in abandoning any people to Communism — but he came away from Southeast Asia feeling very skeptical about what the USA can do with arms and money.

The Senator has discussed his trip with the President, and does not plan the usual Senate floor travelogue with which his colleagues often regale the Club. In a way, it's too bad because his private descriptions of the Taj Mahal temple, of snow-capped Fujiyama, of fuming Vesuvius and fog-bound Etna are classics. The results of Mr. Byrd's journey will become manifest in the questions he puts to committee witnesses and the advice he gives on final passage of legislation.

That's why he comes to Washington for the Congressional sessions, and that's what he does.

These realities about Senator Byrd don't fit the orthodox public portrayal of somebody more interested in budgets than people, a naysayer on nearly everything concerning foreign policy. But the Senator, born and raised in the Shenandoah Valley in the azure beauty of the Blue Ridge Mountains, has been in love with mountains ever since he began the Shenandoah National Park during his Virginia governorship three decades ago. He personally sold President Roosevelt on the magnificent skyline drive across the Southern Highlands of Virginia, North Carolina and Tennessee. While he didn't start traveling abroad until a mission at the end of World War II took him to Europe to consult with General Eisenhower, Mr. Byrd has been quietly on the go ever since.

In His Element

Senator Fulbright impresses many people as a somewhat grouchy, abstracted, misanthropic egghead. When I saw him last autumn in London, where he was hobnobbing with learned economists and Commonwealth planners, he seemed in his element.

But Bill Fulbright went from Britain to Arkansas where, with his chic and upper-crust Philadelphia-bred wife, he drove 5,000 miles stayed at wayside motels made 55 set speeches, talked to hundreds of neighbors about cotton, rice, poultry, weather and local politics and ate enough chicken to raise the price of this important local product. He was always asked, more in curiosity than anything else, he says, about the hob-raising Fulbright Memo.

Never once was he asked about the Southern Manifesto, of which he is a signer of this lack of interest being mainly one of utility and boredom over the distressing aspects of the race problem.

This is a surprising picture of the Fulbrights whom Washington knows.

"Betty's my handshaker in Arkansas," he says with pride. "And you know, except for the physical exhaustion when you get too many meetings piled up, that kind of campaigning is lots of fun. It's more restful than what goes on in Washington."

As one who wrote a good deal, not very favorably, about the Fulbright Memo, I asked Bill Fulbright if he expected to get into any controversy between now and his primary election in May.

"I ain't gonna look for any trouble," said the Chairman of Foreign Relations in the ungrammatical Arkansas vernacular.

Surprising fellows, Senators!

Round-the-World Trip Nears End

DESERT HOT SPRINGS — Miss Eugenia Brown, a retired school teacher from Cleveland, O., who has spent the past five years traveling around the world, planned in from Hawaii for a short stay at Michael's Manor before returning to Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hirschbein and son, Wynn Hershey of New York City—he's one of the country's top interior designers—were dinner guests of the Harold Sterlings at the Trinidad Hotel in Palm Springs. Following dinner, guests adjourned to the Sterlings' home where they enjoyed instrumental music provided by Mrs. Irene Pines and Mrs. Sterling.

The J. C. McGees and Mr. and Mrs. George Browning of Whittier toured the Salton Sea area topping off their day's outing with dinner in Indio. The foursome were celebrating the birthdays of Mrs. McGee and Browning which fall one day apart.

An oil painting, "The Desert After the Rain," by local artist, Sophie Sturtevant was one of 60 entries chosen from among 200 to hang in an exhibit sponsored by the American Institute of Fine Arts at the Fisher and Quinn Galleries of the University of Southern California during January

Top awards for oils and etchings were awarded to William Darling of Palm Springs and Charles D. Rogers of Los Angeles, respectively, both of whom have exhibited with Mrs. Sturtevant at the Addington Gallery here.

Thanks to Nada's Bake Shop there isn't a boy or girl at Angel View Crippled Children's Hospital who misses a birthday cake. What's more, Nada serves the cake on a musical plate which plays happy birthday.

In addition to host Rudy Ludwig, former district manager for the company, the group included Walter T. Hadley of Toledo, O., owner of the Cains Potato Chip Co.; R. E. Peters, owner of the Catana Motel, Port Clinton, O.; E. H. Shafer of Desert Hot Springs and Ember Schaefer of Riverside.

CANCER CRUSADERS for the residential phase of the current American Cancer Society drive include Mrs. Sally Dunton, left, president of the Desert Does, shown receiving her "crusade kit" from Mrs. Jeanne Keller, along with Mrs. LaVerne Brady, two of the 30 Elks auxiliary members who have volunteered in the house-to-house campaign. Palm Springs neighborhoods are being visited by the group throughout this week.

CATHEDRAL CITY

Foursome Take Trip to Mexico

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Frazer and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Stredicke of Elna Way are enjoying a two months trailer trip through Mexico. They crossed into Mexico at Mexicali and drove Highway 2 through Sonito and Caborca to Santa, just south of Magdalena, then through Hermosillo, Mazatlan, Mexico City, Villahermosa and Tamasopo and are still roving south.

Here on an extended visit with their sister-in-law, Mrs. Mina Eisenmann and her son, Charles, are George Eisenmann of Garrettsville, Ohio and Chester Eisenmann from Cuyahoga, Ohio. Mrs. Eisenmann's nephew, Everett Freeman of Los Angeles, is now making his home with Mrs. Eisenmann who owns the St. Francis Apartments. Dr. and Mrs. "Doc" Eastwald, of Spooner, Wis., are enjoying another season at the St. Francis. Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Fred Gosse of Vancouver, B.C., are here for several weeks and Mr. and Mrs. William Stefoni from Chehalis, Wash., are at the St. Francis for a month.

Mrs. Robert Campbell of Mar Vista is a houseguest this week at the desert home of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Wallich and daughter Susan. Wallich is president of Capitol Records.

Joining the guests at the Desert Lodge, Miss Elizabeth Dickens of Portland, Ore., is here for her tenth season and Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Bailey are here from Yakima, Wash., for a month.

While Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Donahue, Sr., of Sun Valley were house guests of their son and family, the Ed Donahues, a family dinner celebrated Mrs. Donahue Sr.'s birthday. Also at home for the special occasion was Mr. Donahue's son, Dennis McNamara, enjoying the mid-term break from his studies at University of California at Riverside where he is in his junior year.

Among the guests at the Sven-Ska Bungalows are Mr. and Mrs. Glen Fuller of Claremont, who are here for several weeks, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. King here from their home in Olympia, Wash., for a month or more and Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Bach who arrived from Berkeley for a visit of several months.

Mrs. Knut Rein left by plane Thursday after a three-week visit with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Paulsen at their Bahada Road home.

Following a desert holiday at the Desert Villa Mrs. W. Crane

HOME FOR AGED CLOSED

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (UPI) — A growing flu epidemic which already has closed most of the city's schools Wednesday night prompted officials of the home for the aged to bar visitors.

Officials of the Davey Home for the Aged said there were between 30 and 35 cases of influenza among the staff and residents.

Flu has affected about one-third of the city's 42,000 population and has forced 34 of 52 public schools in the area to close.

Does Buck Fund Drive This Week

Members of the Desert Does, auxiliary of Elks Lodge 1905, spearheaded this week's residential drive for funds for the American Cancer Society, according to ACS campaign chairman, Dr. William Elliott.

Leadership of the neighborhood solicitation includes Mrs. Sally Dunton, Mrs. Margaret Krysan, Mrs. Marge Karp and Mrs. Mary Riordan.

Approximately 30 auxiliary members are participating in the canvass, aided by individual ACS volunteers, covering selected neighborhoods within the Palm Springs city limits, throughout this week.

"Dough for Does to conquer cancer" is our theme," said Mrs. Dunton, club president.

She pointed out that the doorbell ringers are distributing cancer education literature in addition to making appeal for funds. "While one out of three cancer patients is cured today," Mrs. Dunton said, "we could be curing one cancer case in two with just present knowledge."

Failure to reach the improved cure-rate is the failure of cancer education to reach the public, according to Mrs. Dunton. She explained the current door-to-door cancer crusade provides a dual opportunity for both education and fundraising.

Goal of the 1962 "cancer crusade" in Palm Springs is $12,000, ACS representatives said, adding that approximately one-third of that amount has been raised since the drive began on January 17.
